'We Are Ahead,' Jackson Says

... After Experts' Secret Testimony

Washington (AP)—Secret testimony by Navy missile and submarine experts Wednesday caused senators to discount Soviet claims that they can match the U.S. nuclear-powered Polaris fleet.

"We are ahead of them on this," Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said in an interview after the closed-door testimony.

"If they had even 10 or 12 nuclear powered submarines able to launch missiles the Soviet would put them on public display for propaganda purposes," Jackson said.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the watchdog defense subcommittee which has been questioning top defense officials about relative Soviet-U.S. strength in missiles and delivery systems, agreed in a separate interview.

20 Being Constructed

Congress has authorized 29 Polaris submarines of which 20 are under construction at an estimated cost of $153 million each, including the 16 ballistic missiles each carries.

Jackson said Navy leaders have a goal of 45, but he believes the underwater missile fleet should be larger.

Jackson, who spearheaded congressional moves to build up the Polaris program, said "they are getting the bugs out of them which we have in all our new weapons systems.

"They are doing better than I expected."

Ahead Of Schedule

Stennis said the Polaris weapon system "is two years ahead of its original schedule."

Stennis indicated Navy and Air Force leaders have agreed on their nuclear missile targets if war should come, and expressed delight over that co-operation. In the past there have been congressional complaints of rivalry and duplication.

Testifying were 4 Navy admirals: W. F. Raborn, director of the Polaris project, J. J. Hayward, director of Naval research and development, I. J. Gakantin, director of antisubmarine warfare, and L. L. Lowrance, director of naval intelligence.

CYRILLE ADOULA

—Moderate Named—

ADOULA NEW CONGO HEAD

Leopoldville, the Congo (AP)—Cyrille Adoula, a moderate in politics and personality, was approved by Parliament Wednesday as the Congo's new premier and head of a unity government pledged to end violent political strife.

The 39-year-old Adoula is second to take the premiership with parliamentary endorsement since the Congo moved from Belgian colonialism to independence to chaos little more than a year ago. The first was Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted and subsequently assassinated.

With all outsiders barred from the Parliament session to prevent any pressure on the deputies, the results of the vote were reported by reliable sources. They said Adoula's government won a unanimous vote in the Senate. Only two abstentions were recorded in the Chamber of Deputies.

One of 3 posts as deputy premier went to Antoine Gizenga, political heir of Lumumba and head of the Stanleyville regime which has been backed by Communists as the Congo's legal government.

Failure to form a new Congolese government could have meant continued political strife of the sort that had brought the United States, the Soviet Union and other powers into the Congo as backers of one faction or another. And forming a new government without Gizenga's participation would have been impossible. He controls the largest single bloc of deputies in Parliament.

Thus Adoula's government is the result of a delicate political balance according places to all forces in the Congo except the separatist regime of Katanga. There, President Moise Tshombe persisted in regarding his rich province as independent from the Congo and refused to allow Katanga deputies to attend Parliament unless he won concessions. Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu refused to accept Tshombe's demands.

State Purchasing Must Be Done In Flexible, Vague Legal Maze

... RULES DRAWN YEARS AGO LEAVE 'A LOT OF LEEWAY'

(Editor's Note: Because of recent controversy, The Star's political reporter has prepared this detailed report on state purchasing practices.)

By Don Walton

The state purchasing agent—operating in a highly sensitive and powerful position of government since 1943—must function as best he can in an open, loose, flexible and vague legal maze.

He does not have to take formal bids on anything he buys, from toilet paper to automobiles.

If he takes bids, he does not have to accept the lowest offer.

Nor, does he even need to follow specifications in awarding a contract.

He is limited by law only to the extent that he must award a contract to the bidder submitting "the lowest and best bid as determined by the purchasing agent."

That leaves a whole lot of leeway.

'Best Judgment'

Lacking specific legal guidelines, the purchasing agent relies largely on common sense and his best judgment in establishing a policy.

Also available as a general set of ground rules is a single page of "rules and regulations" drawn under the administration of former Gov. Victor Anderson.

These rules are important—for they include such declarations now in practice as:

—the state may accept or reject all bids. (This is also a statutory provision.)

—the state may purchase item-by-item, in groups or as a total. All-or-none bids are acceptable.

—specifications are intended to provide adequate competition, thus "bids on items of approximately these specifications will be considered—provided that the bidder must state in his bid any deviation which this item has from these requirements."

Own Policy

With these rules as a starting point, the purchasing agent draws his own policy. In large part, it may well be an expression of his personality.

This could be particularly true of George Morris.

He is a firm and hard administrator, a man unafraid of controversy or criticism, a man with confidence in his own judgment.

"The governor's policy—and my own—is to take the lowest priced item that will meet the needs of the using department as determined by that department," he explains.

Thus, in an effort to hold cost at a minimum, Morris said, it is "not a bit unusual" for the purchasing agent to award bids which deviate from specifications—if they are the lowest bids.

Approval First

But, approval from the using department must be obtained first. There is no economy in buying a lower-priced item if it will not properly do the job.

Morris says he is buying "damn near everything" by bid, very little on negotiated contract in the open market.

Morris

He purchases for all state agencies except the University of Nebraska and the normal schools. He does not purchase original building materials, or contract for roads or bridges.

The purchasing agent is a branch of the tax commissioner's office, but is more directly under control of the governor who appoints him.

Over $2 Million

In his first 22 weeks in office, Morris signed purchase contracts totling $2,196,000. The figure has now passed $2.5 million.

How is a purchase consummated?

First, a department sends in its requisition for the item it wishes to obtain. The using department generally draws specifications, sometimes after consultation with the purchasing agent.

Morris sends a quotation request — an invitation to bid — to vendors who have indicated their interest in selling such a product. It lists specifications.

Sealed bids are opened on a predetermined date.

The low bid is accepted if it meets the needs of the department. It may or may not meet specifications.

Must State Reason

If the using department wishes to decline the low bid, it must state its reasons to Morris in writing.

"We have probably toughened up the requirements of buying on low bid because that is what the governor wanted to do," Morris points out.

Other changes Morris has initiated, he said, are placing additional items on bid purchase and decreasing the practice of using brand names in specifications.

These alterations, he said, have resulted in savings to the state.

"The best way to get a good price is to get a bid," Morris declared. "When you limit bids, you increase the price."

Claims Savings

In a 5-week test period during February and March, Morris noted, his office figured a savings of $16,921 without a reduction in quality.

"Dollars you save on the little things add up," he said.

When does Morris not take a bid?

—when a department is authorized to purchase on its own, usually on an emergency basis when time is of the essence. Competition still must be secured, even if by telephone.

—when items can be obtained from only one source.

—sometimes when "filling in a line" of equipment, some of which has already been purchased.

How does all this differ from past administrations?

'Few Deviations'

Tom Coffey of Sidney, purchasing agent under Gov. Anderson, told The Star he accepted "very, very few devi-

Farm Measure Gains Approval Of Conferees

... WHEAT ACREAGE CUT INCLUDED

Washington (UPI)—Senate-House conferees Wednesday night approved an omnibus farm bill giving President Kennedy part of the program he proposed to trim farm surpluses and raise farm income.

The catch-all bill—including administration programs to pay farmers for reducing acreage of surplus wheat and feed grains in 1962—now goes back to the House and Senate for final approval.

Both Houses were expected to accept the compromise and speed the bill to the White House.

The conferees, winding up two days of meeting to settle differences between separate Senate and House versions of the bill, knocked out a controversial Senate provision which would have opened the door to control of chicken production.

Also dropped from the bill in the final hours of negotiation was a Senate provision authorizing a federation of farm cooperatives to do things which now are legal only when done by single co-operatives.

House members promised to write a statement accompanying the bill to say that present law already sanctioned joint action by co-ops.

The bill provides:

—A 1962 wheat acreage reduction plan forcing a 10% cut in next year's wheat planting allotment. In return, farmers would get payments based on 45% of the normal yield of the idle acres.

For voluntary cuts of up to an additional 30%, growers would get payments based on 60% of normal yield.

Durum wheat allotments, however, could be increased to avert a possible shortage of this type.

—Continuation for 1962 of this year's program under which corn and grain sorghum growers voluntarily cut production in return for government payments, plus eligibility for price supports. In 1962, growers of barley — except malting barley —also would be subject to the program.

—Authorization to producers of turkeys, turkey hatching eggs, peanuts and a number of other products to adopt federal marketing orders under which grade and volume regulations can be imposed.

For peanuts, the conferees provided that any marketing orders must be confined to single types rather than covering all types of peanuts. The lamakers knocked out Senate sections authorizing marketing orders for chicken hatching eggs and authorizing the use of check-off programs in marketing orders to finance advertising campaigns.

—Extension for 3 years of the Food for Peace program under which farm surpluses are exported for foreign currency. Sales would be limited to $4.5 billion over the 3-year period with a ceiling of $2 billion in any one year.

—Extension of the wool price support program for 4 years.

—Extension of the Great Plains conservation program for 10 years.

—Liberalization of farm credit terms for low-income farmers.

—A statement of Congressional policy not to allow exports of subsized farm products to Communist countries.

—Extension of federal school milk subsidy authority for 5 years.

President Kennedy already has indicated in letters to Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., of the House Agriculture Committee, that he approves the bill. This is despite the fact that it omits his No. 1 farm policy proposal.

That plan would have set up new machinery for adoption of future farm production controls.

FIDEL'S NO PET; GOES IN THE POT

Belo Horizonte, Brazil (UPI)—Fifty-two of 54 fighting cocks seized in a Sunday-night raid—including a Cuban champion called Fidel Castro—wound up as fried chicken at the state prison here Wednesday.

The two survivors escaped the pot because the prison chef had made pets of them.

Police jailer Jose De Andrade was sharply rebuked for sending the belligerent birds to the prison kitchen. President Janio Quadros ordered a crackdown on cock-fighting in Brazil, but his instructions were that any birds seized by raiders were to be kept alive.

"I had to do something," Andrade protested. "Those birds were all in here together. They were killing each other. I didn't know President Quadros wanted them saved."

Police have been unable so far to locate the owner of the raided cockpit, who fled with $500 that had been bet of the fights. But they expect him to turn up sooner or later—he is a state tax inspector.

Morrison Given Rootworm Plan

... FROLIK: $20,000 NEEDED

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

A 3-point program aimed at research for control of Nebraska's corn rootworm infestation was presented to Governor Frank Morrison Wednesday by the Hamilton County Corn Rootworm Research Committee.

Describing the corn rootworm infestation as a threat to most of Nebraska's highly productive corn producing areas, Ed George of Hampton, chairman of the Hamilton County committee told the governor his committee also represented farmers from Clay, Dawson, Phelps, York, Adams Buffalo and Kearney Counties.

"A conservative estimate of our loss in Hamilton County from corn rootworm has been placed at $1½ million dollars and corn rootworm has created the most serious problem to Nebraska crops that our area has ever suffered," said Gene Tredway of Aurora, a committee member.

3 Points

The 3-point program called for:

1. Additional funds to be made available to evaluate and complete present research programs on corn rootworm that need additional personnel and tabulation to secure utmost returns from current research projects.

2. A 10,000-acre research plot spraying program to check the effective kill of corn rootworm beetles to establish migration patterns of the insect.

3. A policing program for aerial applicators to establish guidelines for effective application of chemicals.

Committee members charged that competition has crept in among aerial sprayers with reduced prices threatening the effectiveness of chemical application.

With a demand for extra funds to meet the challenge created by the rootworm infestation Gov. Morrison advised the committee that every possibility for securing a transfer of funds from $50,000 grasshopper and $100,000 animal disease outbreak funds would be investigated by his office.

"I will ask for a ruling and a possibility of securing aid from these funds from the attorney general's office Thursday," the governor said.

Frolik Comments

The demand by Nebraska farmers for additional research funds drew comment from Dean Elvin Frolik of the University of Nebraska's College of Agriculture Wednesday evening.

"Immediate use of an additional $20,000 to supplement an estimated $25,000 already being used in corn rootworm research is urgently needed to meet one of the most pressing problems we have encountered."

Frolik termed the rootworm problem "one that will not leave us in a year's time but a situation that needs research on a 10-year program."

Dr. Gerald Weekman, member of the department of entomology at NU, listed 3 fields of research that will require additional funds for study this year.

3 Research Fields

They were:

1. Continuation of chemical soil treatment.

2. Additional study of plant resistance.

3. Complete biological study of the corn rootworm.

Through cooperation of farmers and chemical companies, Dr. Weekman has test plots covering 45 acres of land in Hamilton and York Counties. He has applied 110 different treatments for corn rootworm control on these plots.

Dr. Weekman's "crash" research program began a year ago when corn rootworm damage was the most extensive in recent years.

Shortages Annoy Cubans

Long Lines Impatient For Meat

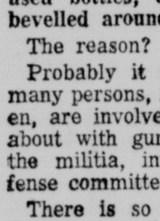
... Chicken $1.20 A Lb.

EDITOR'S NOTE: AP foreign news analyst William L. Ryan, just back from a brief visit in Havana, reports on life in Cuba today.

By William L. Ryan
AP News Analyst

"No Hay!"

A great many Cubans—including Cubans still enthusiastic about Fiden Castro — are becoming annoyed with those words. They mean "there isn't any."



Ryan

In Havana and other Cuban cities and towns, long lines stand at butcher shops, waiting for a chance to get some meat. If they get in the store before the words "no hay" are pronounced, they are unlikely to get any choice. They take what they get.

There is a severe shortage of meat—even including the favored chicken which, when available, brings about $1.20 a pound.

There is a shortage of eggs. And, in an island nation with an abundance of fishery resources, there is sometimes a shortage of fish.

Shortage of Fruit

There are shortages of fruits in an island where fruit grows lushly. There is a shortage of glass. In the swank hotels, now occupied by visitors from the communist East who like to bring their lunches and dinners to their rooms in bags, ash trays and sometimes even drinking glasses are fashioned from the bottoms of used bottles, cut away and bevelled around the edges.

The reason?

Probably it is because so many persons, men and women, are involved in parading about with guns, tied up in the militia, involved in defense committees.

There is so much of this that vital work does not get done, harvests fall off. The United States is blamed by the regime, but it has another explanation, too. The Cuban people, says Castro, are so well off now that they are buying more than before, and this has caused the shortages.

Canned Fish From Russia

To make up for shortages, the Cubans import canned fruits from the Soviet bloc, canned hams from Poland, canned fish from Russia. It hardly seems to make economic sense for a country itself so richly endowed with fertile soil and sunshine.

Other things are imported, too. Cuba, now in debt to the Red bloc for the past year for up to $350 million worth of economic aid, has brought in as much as $80 million worth of arms in a year, reliable diplomatic sources report.

There are Soviet trucks from the Gorky factory by the hundreds. There are Soviet and Czech jeeps by the hundreds. There are Czech autobuses — but no automobiles. The public soon will be using more and more buses as aging American cars begin to wheeze and fold up for lack of parts.

How long will it all last? Probably a good while. Cubans are grumbling about the shortages, but while many may be hungry they are not starving. They may get tired of regimentation and tired of the shortages. But a police state is being imposed, directed largely by disciplined communists.

Ties With Formosa Tighten

U.S. Still Is Opposed To Red China In U.N.

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy Wednesday reaffirmed America's firm ties with Nationalist China, and its continued opposition to United Nations membership for Red China.

He gave the formal assurances in a joint communique he and Nationalist Vice President Chen Cheng issued following 3 days of Washington talks.

The communique gave no indication of what decisions might have been reached on strategy the two nations will use to fight communist China's showdown bid for admission to the U.N. next month.

Agreement Lacking

But officials of both governments said privately that no agreement was reached for meeting the communist proposal that Outer Mongolia be allowed in the world body in exchange for admission of Mauritania, a pro-West African republic.

The United States fears that failure to put through the Mongolia-Mauritania package deal will cost the West the African votes it needs to keep Red China out. Nationalist China has threatened to veto membership for communist Outer Mongolia.

As the President and Chen issued their communique, the Red Chinese regime instructed its people to "despise" the Kennedy administration, but not to underestimate it.

House OK's $958 Million More For Arms Buildup

.. McNamara Doesn't Want Half Billion For Jets

Washington (AP)—Unanimous House approval Wednesday gave President Kennedy authority to spend all the $958.57 million he asked for planes, ships and missiles to equip the new defense buildup.

It was another step in the rapid-fire action by Congress to hand the President as quickly as possible the authority and money he requested to deal with the communist threat to West Berlin and other areas.

Congress already has authorized Kennedy to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and to extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

403 To 0 Vote

House passage of the military hardware bill by a 403-0 vote came after some Republican calls for Kennedy to match his words with action and to cut non-defense spending.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara let it be known that despite the need for more military sinew, he doesn't want an extra $525 million Congress may give him for heavy manned jet bombers.

Before Kennedy's call for more armed might, McNamara had indicated he would not spend the money even if Congress provided it. Apparently he still feels this way.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., to whom McNamara wrote his views, announced he would try to knock out the $525 million when the $46.8 billion defense money bill comes to the Senate floor later this week. The extra fund was voted into the measure by unanimous action of the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday.

Missile Site Labor Losses Hit New Low

Washington (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg reported Wednesday after a two-day tour of key missile bases that man-days lost to strikes at the launching sites fell to an all-time low of 209 in July.

Goldberg praised contractors and workers for their record of uninterrupted performance. "Work is being performed with great expedition and great dedication," he told a news conference.

More than 1 million man-days of work were recorded last month.

Goldberg made his trip as chairman of the Missile Sites Labor Commission. This group was set up to end delay and wasteful practices after disclosure of abuses by a senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

The labor secretary said many problems remain to be solved. He said the complex missile program raises many jurisdictional problems between unions. Housing is in short supply for workers, and some workers are demanding travel pay because they have to drive up to 90 miles to reach some isolated bases, he said.

Boy Fish-Knifed In Chest, 'Fair,' Assailant In Jail

A 14-year-old Lincoln boy was stabbed in the chest with a fishing knife Wednesday afternoon.

His condition was reported as fair by an official at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Police were holding a 16-year-old in jail pending further investigation of the incident, according to Lt. Milburn Green.

The 16-year-old told police that the younger boy had called him a name, turned and ran. When he ran after him, the 14-year-old pulled an ice pick and swung at him.

The older youth pulled a fishing knife, made several lunges, hitting the 14-year-old in the chest on the last swing.

The knifing occurred on R between 22nd and 23rd.

Accident Puts 3-Year-Old In Hospital

Three-year old Danny W. Rollf, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil W. Rollf of 4425 Pawnee, was admitted to a Lincoln hospital in good condition Wednesday night following a car-pedestrian accident.

Hospital officials said Danny is being held for observation.

Police said the boy was involved in the accident on Van Dorn between Scott Ave. and 39th.

The driver of the car, Reginald H. Chandler, 18, of 2947 Stratford Ave., told officers he was westbound on Van Dorn at a slow speed when he observed the boy come out from between two parked cars.

Chandler said he applied his brakes as hard as he could and was almost stopped at the time of impact. The left front of his car came into contact with Danny, tumbling him to the pavement.

U.S. Tells Castro He Can Get Planes Back Legally

Washington (AP) — The United States told other nations Wednesday that there are normal legal processes by which Cuba could head off seizure of hijacked Cuban aircraft under U.S. court orders.

Through a press statement, the State Department responded to a proposal from Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for a dealing involving the Eastern Airlines Electra plane held in Havana since a gunman forced the pilot to fly there July 24. Castro offered to return the plane if this country will send back all Cuban aircraft hijacked and flown to the United States.

The statement will be circulated to all members of the United Nations and the Organization of American States.

The State Department said aircraft attached by legal processes in the United States can be protected from sale to satisfy judgments against the Cuban government "if a timely request is made through diplomatic channels for recognition of the immunity of the aircraft."

Lincoln White, spokesman for the department, said a request for immunity is automatically passed to the court handling the case and is one of the items the court considers in disposition of the case.

Officials said courts customarily honor such requests.

The State Department noted that Cuba has not yet replied to a U.S. request for the release of the Eastern Airlines plane.

It said the United States knows of no Eastern Airlines debts in Cuba and "therefore the government of the United States perceives no basis for any judicial proceedings or attachment against this aircraft."

The obvious aim was to show a contrast with the cases of a number of Cuban planes flown to this country which have been seized to satisfy legal claims of Americans against the Cuban government.

The State Department said, "It is of course clear that, if there is no claim outstanding against the private owners of any Cuban airplane entering the United States, due process of law would assure the recovery of such airplane by its rightful owners in the event of an attempt to detain it."

Last Saturday Cuba took to the United Nations a charge that the United States was preparing "immient military aggression" to recover the seized airliner. The State Department at that time called the move an attempt to divert attention from Cuba's own action in holding the aircraft.

Sen. Margaret Smith Offers Women Some Equal Footing Advice

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, said if women want equal footing with men they must stand on their own two feet.

She told the American Legion Auxiliary Girls Nation that women "must be willing to give up feminine privileges when they demand equal rights."

Sen. Smith urged the teenage girls: "Don't demand special privileges under the guise of equal rights — whether the issue be on the basis of race, creed, color, religion or sex."

Vet Driver, 16, Wins Seward Tractor Meet

By Gene Budig

Seward—It's all in a day's work for Dean Hackbart, a veteran tractor jockey at 16.

The high school senior Wednesday afternoon drove off with the Seward County Fair's 12th annual tractor operating contest.

But, Dean had plenty of practice before locking gears with 7 of the county's best tractor drivers.

8-Year Driver

He's been driving a tractor since he was 8 years old.

"Dad taught me the gears," Dean said, "He's a good teacher."

The bronzed victor had a wide grin when he added: "This is the first time that I've been given a prize for working."

More than 100 persons braved the humid heat to watch the teenagers cut their fancy capers. The contestants, all Future Farmers of America, were judged on driving, backing and general mastery of the tractor.

Four tractors were kept chugging throughout the afternoon of competition.

Previous tractor driving contest winners and years are:

Charles Eberspacher, Milford, 1950.
Philip Wurst, Milford, 1951.
Robert Briggs, Seward, 1952.
Richard Hauder, Milford, 1953.
John Ficke, Jr., Milford, 1954.
Larry Vedsted, Seward, 1955.
Edgar Luebbe, Milford, 1956.
Merrill Stutzman, Milford, 1957.
Richard Eberspacher, Seward, 1958.
Clelland Tonniges, Seward, 1959.
Duane Stutzman, Milford, 1960.

Dean Hackbart . . . the new champ.

All eyes are on Jim Garber of Seward as he takes his turn on the tractor obstacle course.

Twins' Folks Baffled By Pin Mixup

Fremont (AP)—Which twin wears—or is supposed to wear—the blue safety pins?

And which of the identical 3½ months old boys should be wearing yellow fasteners on his 3-cornered pants?

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Christensen of Fremont, parents of David and Chris, thought they had things straightened out when they brought the babies home from the hospital.

So the look-alikes could be identified, Mrs. Christensen put yellow pins on David and blue of Chris—or so she thought.

Three weeks ago a pin broke, Mrs. Christensen went for the card of pins, and found David's name written on the blue card. On the card holding yellow pins, it said Chris.

Police took footprints of the infants but they were unable to match them with those on records at the hospital where the boys were born. The hospital prints were smeared.

Now the parents are unsure of the identification. Mrs. Christensen thinks she can tell the boys apart. But her husband can't.

Truck Kills Omaha Child

Omaha (AP) — Biran Duncan, 3, son of Alline Duncan, Omaha, was dead on arrival at a hospital Wednesday after police said he walked into the side of a truck.

John J. Reyes, 24, Omaha, told police he was unaware of the accident until stopped by a motorist two blocks away. He said he saw a group of children standing by the street as he passed the accident site.

Fred Stevens, accident investigator, said the boy apparently failed to see the westbound truck and stepped into the street from a driveway.

The death raised the state highway fatality count for the year to 177, compared with 138 a year ago.

Crete — James L. Shaw of Columbus, Ind., has accepted a position as resident head of Men's Hall and an instructor at Doane College during the coming year, Dean Daryl E. Williams has announced.

Lincoln Star Special

Seward — Tex Ritter and his guitar shared the spotlight here Wednesday night as the annual Seward County Fair came to an end.

More than 2,000 persons sat in the grandstand to hear the Hollywood cowboy's selections.

The grandstand show was headed by a giant parade, featuring Dean Hackbart, the fair's new tractor driving champion.

Members of the 4-H and the FFA also marched in review.

TB Hospital Empty Rooms Use Sought

Kearney (AP) —Gov. Frank Morrison said he will instruct the man chosen as director of state institutions to find a use for the "empty rooms and idle beds" in the State Hospital for the Tuberculous here.

The governor said finding a use for the empty space is "a major challenge facing our administration and an area in which the new director will have to act."

Praises Nutzman

"It would be unthinkable to abandon this facility," he said. "The fact that it isn't filled is a tribute to Dr. William Nutzman (director of the hospital) and others who have drastically reduced the incidence of tuberculosis among our people."

The hospital has a capacity of 200 and now has 80 patients.

Five years ago the patient load averaged about 150.

Gov. Morrison visited the hospital and the Boys Training School.

At the Boys Training School he said he was impressed by Supt. Bill Ettinger's philosophy that each boy must learn to accept responsibility as a prerequiste to full rehabilitation.

York Will Host NU Ag Alumni

York — Graduates and faculty members of the School of Agriculture at the University of Nebraska will meet here Sunday, August 6.

A short business meeting will be held in the auditorium at 1:30 p.m. Abner Chestem of Lincoln, will bring the group up-to-date on the old Alumni Association. Marian Collins, also of Lincoln, will speak on the status of the present Alumni Association.

Dr. T. H. Goodding, retired professor of agronomy at the University, will address the group. Dr. Goodding is currently working with College and School of Agriculture alumni over the state in an effort to develop an Agriculture Alumni Association.

Ravenna Event Attracts 5,000

Ravenna (AP) — About 5,000 attended the opening of the two-day Ann-E-Var celebration here.

The celebration this year coincides with the 75th anniversary of the town.

Gov. Frank Morrison led a parade in which 51 units participated, and later in a talk praised Ravenna for preserving its heritage.

California Girl Given Probation

Omaha (AP) — Cheryl Ann Meier, 17, California girl who robbed an Omaha cafe, pleaded guilty Tuesday and was given two years probation by District Judge Patrick W. Lynch.

She was charged in the holdup of the El Rey Cafe July 16, taking $3 from the owners. She later drove to Des Moines, where she turned herself in to police.

ations from specifications," and then only if the difference in price was "huge."

Low bids were rejected "very, very seldom," Coffey said, perhaps 3 or 4 times during his 2½ years in office.

Purchases by bid were undertaken "nearly always."

Morris says he has employed the advice of the Standards and Specifications Committee "several times" since he took office.

This committee—created by statute and composed of the purchasing agent, the tax commissioner and the state engineer or his nominee — was a subject of much concern in the Callan report on governmental operations.

'Reactivation' Urged

The 48-page report recommended "reactivation" of the committee which it said "has been virtually inoperative since it was created."

Morris is now using the committee's counsel in drawing specifications for the automobile safety belts ordered by Gov. Morrison.

In summing up, perhaps it would be well to quote one observation of the Callan group which studied purchasing practices in 1959:

"It should be emphasized that the deficiencies in our state purchasing methods are the accumulation of years of neglect of the problems in the department, the inadequate staffing, and the lack of definiteness in the statutory provisions."

Another manner of expressing the same observation with more humor is to be found on the front desk of one of the secretaries in the purchasing agent's office. There, a sign reads:

"Just because we've done it all wrong for years is no reason to change things now."

The New Fly-Guy

By BOB CONSIDINE

(Note: Columnist Bob Considine substitutes today for William O. Dobler, Star editor, who is on vacation.)

NEW YORK — West Point developed a type of man over the years and so did the Naval Academy. You can spot them, sense them. But the Air Force Academy is trying to avoid a stereotype fly-guy, the man who is doing a lot of the shaping of our future air officers has told us. He is Maj. Gen. William Sebastian Stone, a big, good-looking Missourian who got himself moved to the old Army Air Corps just as soon as he graduated from West Point. Gen. Stone is superintendent of the newest and most remarkable of the nation's service schools.

"We're out to develop the individual, an all-around man who can handle himself anywhere in the world and eventually in space," he said. "When he comes to us, we give him more liberties than the other academies. We've dispensed with a lot of the 'sit-up - straight - and-go-to-bed-without-dinner' discipline. That smacks too much of Charles Dickens. We divide our curriculum evenly between the sciences and the humanities. West Point's ratio is about 60-40 in favor of the sciences, Navy's about 70-30. We want a man who'll not only know his business but also know his way around a conference table. He may be called upon to serve almost anywhere in the world, we're so scattered. He must know the languages, customs, mores of peoples, must have made a study not only of the enemy but of his allies. You just can't get that kind of man out of science courses."

Humanities, Sciences

The Air Force Academy delegation sent to Mexico City last year for Mexican Independence Day (West Point and Annapolis sent similar delegations) differed from the others in two respects: (1) Every Air Academy man spoke Spanish, and (2) got more and better dates.

The Air Academy was the first of the major service schools to introduce "enrichment" courses. An undergrad who excels in math may take two years of it in one year, leaving him free to take a year of anything else he desires—including painting. If he has previous college training, the Academy will recognize his credits, relieve him of repeating those courses, and offer him "enrichment." If he feels he has a subject made, he can take an exam which ordinarily he would not have to face until the end of a semester, and if he passes it—he's done with that and on with "enrichment."

Sixty per cent of the 2,200 members of the Air Academy's wing now are taking courses over and beyond what would seem to many U.S. collegians already a back-breaking load. To graduate, one must have 185 credits, 144 of them strictly academic, the rest in physical education, military training, etc. The man who gets through the mill is granted a bachelor of science degree, navigator's wings, and a second lieutenancy in the regular Air Force. M.I.T. requires 145 credits for a B.S., most schools around 125 for a B.A.

But because of the "enrichment" program, many are graduating with enough credits to be given a Masters. Many shoulder well over 200 semester hours. As if to prove one doesn't have to be dumb any more to play sports well, 80 per cent of the Academy's varsity athletes are taking extra studies.

"One thing we're not going to produce is a bookworm," the general said. He might have meant "a non-muscular bookworm." Air Force academicians take more phys. ed. than is required for a degree in same at most colleges— and almost as an afterthought.

The Academy sends its people to Europe and through Latin America for six weeks each summer, to be briefed, to learn something about the peoples, to look around. Soon they'll be going to Asia, too. There is little time for the mind to vegetate. The work day starts at 5:50 a.m., doesn't end until 10 p.m. When there was some comment to the effect that West Point and Annapolis would show them up, as marchers in the Inauguration parade, the wing voluntarily rose before reveille each cold black morning and drilled so hard that they were the best of the three on parade day. Probably never in the history of education in the U.S. or elsewhere has a major academy of learning come further quicker. For the past three years it has been rated second scholastically in the 187-college Graduate Record Examination. In post - grad work, its people have shone at Oxford, Princeton, M.I.T. and Cal Tech.

Long Work Days

In fact, the future leaders of the Air Force and of limitless space are taught almost everything at the Air Force Academy except how to fly. Congress never got around to buying them an airstrip.

"Great News—In Another 20 Years We May Get Some Of The Things We Expected 30 Years Ago"

DREW PEARSON

School Parley At Pool Side

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's schedule was so jammed the other day that he called a conference on school aid at the edge of the White House pool.

Rubbing the water out of his eyes, he interrupted his workout to talk urgently with aides. Subject: How to maneuver the school bill past the legislative roadblock set up by the House Rules Committee.

Abe Ribicoff, the impeccable secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, showed up at poolside dressed like an esquire model.

He suggested it was hopeless to do any more missionary work with James J. Delaney, the grizzled old Catholic congressman whose deciding vote is holding up school aid inside the Rules committee.

Delaney is enjoying his notoriety as the man who blocked the President's school bill. The more he is criticized, he claims, the more it helps him in his heavily Catholic Long Island district.

But other Catholic congressmen, after checking with their Catholic constituents back home, disagree with Delaney. They accuse him of following the dictates of Francis Cardinal Spellman, not the rank-and-file Catholics.

New Jersey's Frank Thompson, for one, polled parents whose children are attending Catholic schools in his state. Two out of three favored the President's public school bill, even without Catholic aid.

Similar soundings were made by New York's Alfred Santangelo, another Catholic congressman, who didn't poll the Catholics separately but claims they made up a "large percentage" of those questioned.

He found only one out of four voters in his district wanted federal funds spent on parochial schools. Yet three out of four favored federal spending for public school construction and teachers' salaries.

Massachusetts' Silvio Conte, one of the few Republican Catholics in Congress, also polled some 2,200 constituents of all creeds. He found 1,449 in favor of federal aid for public school construction, 713 opposed. But only 458 favored federal grants to parochial schools, 1,628 against. A decisive 1,535 were opposed even to federal loans for Catholic schools, only 650 voting for the loans.

Encouraged by such support from Catholics, the President in his bathing suit and Ribicoff in his fancy attire made a poolside pact to give the school bill another strong push.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: How is the medical profession able to determine a patient's reaction to penicillin the first time it is being administered? I have been led to understand in some instances the drug causes unfavorable reaction while in most cases it is not dangerous.—J. R. M."

Dr. Molner

There is no necessity for determining in advance what will happen if a patient never has had penicillin — because very rarely is any thing going to occur in the way of a reaction the first time.

In company with many other things which can, in rare cases, cause a reaction, the first contact with the material does not do it. The first step is that the body must become "sensitized" — if, that is, any such risk exists for the individual.

Hence it is the second, or some subsequent, use of the drug which results in trouble. It would be possible, if we kept detailed records on every individual (and that would be fine, but would it be worth the very considerable cost?) to give a small administration of penicillin, sometime after the first use of it, to everyone.

If the sensitivity is, indeed, due to the penicillin, it would be apparent. But suppose the sensitivity is not to the penicillin itself, but to the oil or other material which is used to put it in liquid form? So I would suggest that it might be better simply for all of us to be aware that once in 100,000 cases, or once in 10,000, or whatever the frequency, there may be trouble.

Steroid drugs have been used to overcome some reactions. In other cases the reactions have been mild enough so the patient needed no extra help. In a few, the reactions have, of course, been drastic and devastating.

I see no practical way to make sure, in advance, in every case. We can, however, be alert, and it trouble starts, quick recognition means quick corrective action.

"Dear Sir: I have five corns and three big calluses, and find that bathing my feet two times a week does the job. But my problem is that my right foot itches something terrible.—J. M. B."

With that many corns and calluses I'd certainly have the doctor or podiatrist check to see if (a) your shoes really fit properly, or (b) you may have some arch defect that needs correcting. As to the itch, it could be a sensitivity to whatever you use to soak your feet, or it could easily be a skin disease, athlete's foot or some other ailment that needs treatment.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Dear Doctor: What would cause white spots in the fingernails? If something can be done, what?—Mrs. T. I."

Tiny defects between the layers of nail, at the base of the nail as it is forming. Small injuries from manicuring are sometimes the cause. Treatment? Avoid these small injuries. Once the white spot has formed, there's nothing to do but let the nail grow out — as it will.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would you explain how the anesthetic called 'saddle block' works? My doctor suggested this so I could see my baby born, but I am a little anxious about side effects.—Mrs. R. L."

It's a rather loosely-used term, the basic idea being that an anesthetic is used to block the nerves of the lower part of the body, leaving normal awareness and activity in the upper part of the body.

It is, in short, ordinarily a spinal anesthesia, but the precise location and the type of anesthetic used can vary considerably.

If given very low in the spinal canal, this type permits a lower level of anesthesia.

Duration of the effect depends on the type of anesthetic material used. It may last an hour, or as long as three or four hours.

There are no side effects, and it does not affect the baby. Since your doctor has recommended it for you, take his advice without further concern.

☆ ☆ ☆

Note To Mrs. G. A.: An aneurysm is a dilation in an artery at one point, and the term "dissecting aneurysm" in the aorta (or large artery from the heart) signifies that the various layers of the artery were slowly split, one by one.

Hardening of the arteries is the usual cause of this. As a rule there are symptoms — a feeling of tightness or pain, after which X-rays can show what is happening. Sometimes it is even possible to feel such an aneurysm as a mass if it occurs in an artery in the abdomen.

If discovered early, it can be repaired by various methods, depending on location and type. It can, however, develop rather rapidly, and since your husband had no symptoms directing attention to this, you have no cause for remorse at not having had treatment earlier.

Dr. Molner is always happy to hear from his readers, but he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters due to the great number received daily. Whenever possible he uses reader's questions in his column.

Nothing Came Of It

After the November 8 elections, last year, partisan Republicans spoke hotly of fraud in Cook county, Illinois, (Chicago). Illinois went to President Kennedy by less than 9,000 votes. Nixon backers were more than skeptical of the Chicago voting.

A later canvass of the returns failed to make any appreciable difference in the vote and also failed to reveal serious irregularities. Nevertheless, a special state's attorney pursued the reports, a grand jury was called and 667 persons, mostly election judges and associated officials were indicted. Subsequently, and at different times, charges against all but 50 of them were dismissed.

Last week the cases of the remaining 50 were placed before an acting county judge. He dismissed all the actions and criticized the prosecution for behaviour which, he said, amounted to intimidation. He objected to star chamber interrogation of many of the defendants prior to the grand jury sessions, and especially in the instance of defendants who, after interrogation, were not called before the jury.

So the matter ends. The prosecutor's charges in many instances were small bore and had they been proved would have lacked strength enough to convince the general public that the earlier accusations of fraud were substantial. But on the other hand all the cases were dismissed on technicalities and none of them were heard on their merits. This is also disappointing. The general feeling will be that here is a matter which got exactly nowhere. The public was not served.

If there is to be any improvement in the administration of elections it will have to come by other methods, greater watchfulness by both parties and less crying of foul unless there is substantial enough evidence to support it.

Macmillan In Hard Spot

Prime Minister Macmillan is not having easy sailing with his move to put Great Britain into the European Common Market. He is under fire from substantial elements of both the Labor and Conservative parties. But the weight of evidence indicates that he will prevail.

The example is one which America should not view with detachment. It could well in time be confronted with a similar hard choice. The principle of a favored market is not new to Great Britain. It has long had its intra-commonwealth commitments. But the system is relatively new in Europe, born of World War II and proven to be of substantial value to the six European nations who engaged in the adventure. But if a Common market benefit the members, a measure of it is at the expense of non-members. In the European Common Market there are provisions for a progressively diminishing tariff, an exchange of labor and balanced economic planning and by virtue of barriers against non-member nations to the proportionate benefit of the members. It is this plus the growth prosperity of the European Common Market that is putting the squeeze on Great Britain and which in the end will require Great Britain to work for a condition of membership which will reduce the hardship and still accommodate most of its special arrangements with members of the Commonwealth and with Europe's other common market, the Outer Seven.

Mr. Macmillan will perform the feat of the year if he can get this done to the satisfaction of all concerned. But he is faced with an unalterable fact and his detractors should keep in mind that if he refuses to act the economic position of Great Britain will grow progressively worse. This is a question that cannot be answered by ignoring it.

Power Committee Starts

When the long and rancorous dispute between Nebraska's public power agencies finally stirred the state Legislature into action it rejected the authoritarian solution of a regulatory body. Instead, it created a public power committee. It went the extra mile on the side of arbitration and for the principle of self-determination on the part of the agencies. For this they should be grateful.

The committee consists of representatives of the major agencies, the REA's and the municipalities. It will convene here Friday, prepare its organization and then go to work. It is expected to have a workable and harmonious inter-agency relationship planned out before the convening of the next Legislature in 1963.

It is a source of disappointment that Nebraska's uniformly successful public power groups cannot get along. It would be more understandable if part of all of them were failing. But Nebraska's now venerable excursion into public power has, in general terms, been a most rewarding thing. Despite the wrangling the agencies in their respective duties have preserved modest power charges, have provided excellent customer service; have exhibited good management and certainly have kept Nebraska abreast of the changing and growing needs of electric service.

There is hope in these coming sessions of the new committee. Certainly the negotiators will be less heady as they realize that the eyes both of the state and the Legislature are upon them, and that failure can mean the transfer of their problems to the lawmakers. There is also some skepticism. By a curious provision the committee must agree unanimously on every proposed remedy. This could lead to no remedy at all. Certainly, if unanimity rested in the hearts of the disputants the whole problem should have ended long since. Indeed, it is the one ingredient whose absence has caused all the trouble.

But, anyway, Nebraska is hoping for the best.

UN Question Of Red China Vexes

WASHINGTON—The Kennedy administration is glad to emphasize its support and friendship for Nationalist China, but it is not willing to suffer a humiliating defeat in the United Nations on the China issue. Hence its effort to sell the visiting vice-president from Formosa on new strategy for the U.N. session which opens next month.

So far there seems to be little meeting of minds. The official communique will stress solidarity, but it will be a solidarity of aims rather than a new program.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union are in a minority position in the U.N. due to the increase in U.N. members from Asia and Africa. The Soviets are worse off in this respect than the western powers, but no particular group of nations is today sufficiently unified to prevail on matters of general interest.

The China question has been shelved each year by strenuous diplomatic efforts on the part of the United States, with help from major allies who at heart question the wisdom of that course. President Kennedy has been told that this year the votes for a continued moratorium are simply not there, and that proceeding as if they were there would only invite a public drubbing.

The Nationalist Chinese have replied with a threat to use their veto powers in the Security Council. It is being urged upon them that such a course would alienate the new nations, particularly those from Africa.

The time might come, they were told, when they would need the friendship of the African nations to protect their own interests in the U.N. This idea was apparently unacceptable as carrying too broad a hint that some kind of compromise involving Red China representation was in the wind.

At this point at least, the administration has no such plan. It only fears that when the Red China issue is introduced into debate, arbitrary or unwise actions might swiftly lead to the loss of Nationalist China's own seat.

Close students of U.N. procedures stress the point that in every case the sponsors of U.N. resolutions must court a very large number of uncommitted nations. Bloc voting is increasingly rare, the work must be done nation by nation.

What the administration is trying to prepare for is extensive diplomatic negotiations preceding the introduction of a Red China resolution. Since it has been told that a purely negative position cannot again succeed, it needs a blueprint for its actions and some prepared positions to retreat to, if necessary.

This is where the Nationalist Chinese scent danger. From their point of view, they may be right. This does not relieve the President from the duty of trying to avoid an American defeat.

It is far from an ideal situation that the United States now enjoys at U.N.—a one-vote nation among 99, many of which are inexperienced and politically naive. The administration can be expected later to propose changes in the organization in the interests of greater efficiency and executive capacity.

Drivers' Tests

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to urge all Star readers as well as our Gov. Morrison to read the article in the July 29 issue of the Saturday Evening Post entitled "Why Every Auto Driver Should Be Re-Examined."

I have been under the opinion that the drivers of Nebraska and the country should be re-examined periodically because a person in this state can get a license to drive at age 16 and during his lifetime lose his sight, his mind and limbs, but still have a license to drive. It's a sobering thought.

As an example, the article states that on a nationwide basis, probably 1.6% of the licensed drivers are not capable of driving competently. In other words, for each 125 cars that one meets on the highway, which could easily be done driving one way between Omaha and Lincoln, two cars have drivers that are incompetent to drive.

I took a test in Illinois a few years ago to qualify for a license in that state. I qualified, but I had a few mistakes of driving brought to my attention that had become so natural that I did not realize I was making them.

This state and the country needs legislation for periodic driver re-examination.

No Election

Lincoln, Neb.

We have the information from the mayor's office that the City Council will not call a special election this fall to vote on the question of urban renewal for Lincoln. Turning thumbs down on a special election saves the hard-pressed taxpayer at least $15,000.

We cannot too strongly commend the Council for this decision. The deep and sincere appreciation of all Lincoln taxpayers goes to the Council members for this and every effort they make to curtail expenses.

State Changes

Lincoln, Neb.

Gov. Morrison is certainly right in wanting to make the office of attorney general and some other state offices appointive. If this change were made, it would put an end to all of the buck-passing that now goes on.

Where would our federal government be if the attorney general was an elective office and came from a different political party than the president?

The following changes should be made: The term of governor should be lengthened from two to four years. The governor and lieutenant governor should be elected, as are the president and vice president, from the same political party. They should both be on the same ticket. The offices Gov. Morrison has suggested be appointive should be made appointive. The legislature should once again be a partisan legislature. The one-house legislature should remain. This practice has saved the taxpayers of Nebraska a lot of money.

If these changes were made, state government would be run more efficiently and at a greater saving and it would be possible to pin responsibility on the party in power, or in the case of a hostile legislature, the obstructionists, whether they be the governor and his party or the legislature and its party. The sooner Nebraska makes these changes, the better.

"Mrs. F. N." recently complained in this column that I am a trouble maker. She fails to realize that in this country we believe in the two-party system. In such a system, there is always free and open controversy.

A unity system can be found only in Russia. Dictatorship permits only one ballot. In this country we have no dictatorship. Instead, we have controversy and what this woman sees is political controversy among ourselves.

Recently Sen. Goldwater at Minneapolis blasted the Kennedy foreign relations program and Sen. Curtis was so happy about it that he declared: "Goldwater must now be recognized as one of the real leaders of the Republican party," thus endorsing what Goldwater had said.

Now, if this good woman wants me to pipe down, let her call off her political dogs, nipping at the heels of a Democratic President, before asking me to quit making trouble.

Off THE RECORD — By Ed. Reed

"If you and mom have had dinner already, how come I didn't get any?"

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Elders Not As Helpless As They May Think They Are

By Robert Peterson

Not long ago I wrote that older people should make a greater effort to keep their homes attractively painted, not only to give their muscles a workout and their morale a boost, but to show the world that there's nothing careless and lazy about old age.

When I browsed through my mail a few days later there was a snappish letter from a man of 74 who said he had never painted anything in his life, was too old to learn, couldn't afford a painter, and didn't give a hoot how his place looked. "Since you are so liberal with other people's ability," he wrote, "see if you can get someone to paint my house for me!"

The next letter was from a man who said he was 76 and despite a touch of arthritis managed to paint his house regularly. "In fact," he offered, "I'll come and paint free the house of any one past 3 score and 10 who thinks he can't do it himself."

By fortunate coincidence, the two men live in adjoining communities so I got them together. And I've just received a note from the 76-year-old saying he brought brushes, paint, and a ladder to the other man's house and went to work whole the 74-year-old watched in astonishment. Seems that within an hour the younger man got a brush for himself and was soon discovering that elders aren't as helpless as they sometimes think they are. He said the two of them painted the one-story house, using white, army surplus paint, for a total cost of $36.

About a year ago a doctor told me that city welfare departments often keep frail elders in costly hospital beds because they don't know what else to do with them. "It would be cheaper," he said, "to register them in a nice hotel, let them have room service, and arrange for a nurse to look in on them occasionally. And the change to a life of independent living might do them good.

When I saw this doctor the other day I referred to our previous conversation and asked if he still felt the same way. "Sure do," he replied, confidently. "A recent survey in 17 states shows that the average cost of keeping a patient in a hospital bed runs $23.60 a day.

In many cases it would cost the taxpayers less to put aged welfare patients—who occupy hospital beds but require nothing more than routine care — into hotels and give them room service. Go ahead and print the story and see if you don't hear from doctors and city officials who will agree with me."

"I've outlived all my old friends," is a dismal saying that needs to be put to pasture. It's as bleak and cheerless an expression as you are likely to find, and can do nothing more for the person who voices it than make him feel he has reached the end of the line. Folks guilty of making this statement should contemplate the bright, optimistic attitude shown by the remark of Grandma Moses, who will be 101 shortly: "Sure I've outlived all my old friends—at least a quarter of a century ago. But I haven't outlived all my new friends!"

If you would like a booklet "Home Care of Aged Parents" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The stretchiest glen plaid can be had in these beautifully cut pants by Majestic. The material is called Adagio and its warp stretch is for comfort and fit.

Exceedingly smart is this unusual, drop waist frock designed by Georgette Originals. The material, Orlon Acrylic blended with wool, lends itself beautifully to dresses that are a delight to wear.

This coat doesn't need to campaign, but if it did it would receive an overwhelming majority. It is a smock-type coat, but warm as toast with its knitted undersleeves and neck yoke.

Smartly elegant is this fine gold tweed dress under a matching jacket that is collar-trimmed with brown nutria. The gold tweed is Milstar, and is a blend of Acrylic and wool. The outfit was designed by Pat Sandler.

Something For Everyone In New Gown Collection

New York (AP) —The nipped-in waist and tightly fitted bodice are still out of style, the Rudolf gowns' spokesman said in firm tones today at the midway point of press week.

"You go all around the figure, but you don't net it," he explained. Then he nodded for the next model to appear.

She did, wearing a quiet little midnight green number with nipped-in waist and tightly fitted bodice. The more than 200 fashion writers gathered for the couture group showings burst into applause.

Shrugged the spokesman: "there's somethong for everyone."

And that succinct fashion cliche sums up 1961 fall clothes, if the collections shown so far this week have any influence on what women wear.

It's true that the predominant silhouette, to no one's surprise, is body conscious, and flare is giving the formerly stark sheath and straight skirt an easy swing. All skirts reach to just under the knee. Glitter for evening is still blinding. Practically all coats and suits have pneumonia-length sleeves, i.e., ending not far below the elbow. Brown is emerging as a favorite color.

But beyond a few generalizations, anything goes anywhere this fall. For example, the Rudolph interpreter said his collection had more concentration at hiplevel.

Every Woman A Bird Of Paradise

Those enticers of overdrawn checking accounts — designers of women's clothes have a habit of putting their best clothes forward when it is "show time" in the fashion world.

Show time has arrived and the fabuan artists from both Europe and the United States are keeping their finger on the pulse of the American woman. They are vying for her favor.

Italian designer, Robert Capucci thinks of modern woman as a Bird of Paradise, a thought he expressed in his showing of fall and winter clothes at Florence, Italy, recently.

Capucci used colors seen usually in fairy tales, spiraling them round and round in ruffles, feathers and light materials. One of these grand evening dresses was made all in rose-red—its spirals sweeping into a long flounced train.

Another model was dressed for the evening in golden cloth, with harem pants which billowed from the knee until they formed a five-foot wide train in the back.

Also in this fantastic collection: invisible capes worn over satin cocktail dresses. The capes were in a silk so sheer as to be almost transparent, embroidered with mock jewels and glittering beads. They swirled around the dresses of ice-orange, palest blue, purples and gold.

Hundreds of international buyers and journalists applauded until the pitti palace was resounding when the show ended.

Another evening creation was made with long skin-tight purple pants, topped by one of those gigantic billowing skirts— in purple lined with bright green. The skirt came to the knees in front and trailed into a long cascade at the back.

For cocktail wear Capucci used as much elegance. For an all-white sheath he designed a silken coat entirely lined with small white feathers. A green velvet cocktail dress was worn with a matching velvet coat lined with golden heavy laminated silk in a quilted effect.

Mailbox Glamour

If you're tired of opening your rusty mailbox every day and finding nothing but bills and unwanted circulars, here's a helpful hint: You probably can't stop the bills and you certainly can't stop the circulars, but you can do something about the mailbox. Replace it with an exterior-type plywood box surfaced with decorative, fade-proof ceramic tile. Domestic-made tile comes in many beautiful designs and colors that will make an attractive focal point in front of your house. A tiled mailbox will be an interesting do-it-yourself project for one of the men around your house, and it could even brighten your mailman's day as well.

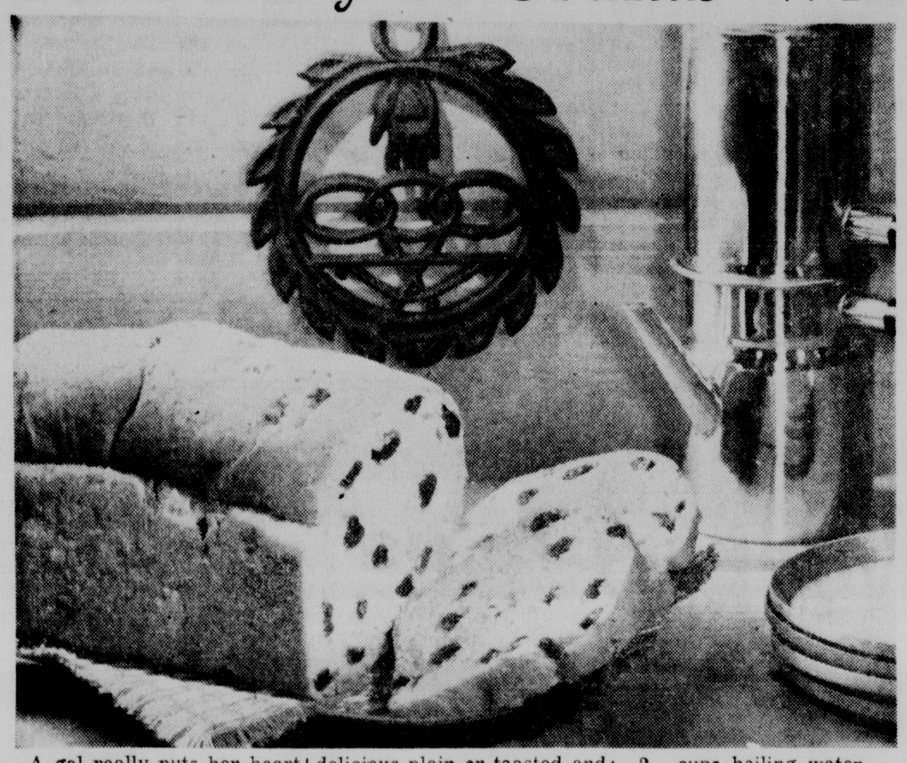
And Nary A Crumb Will Be Left



A gal really puts her heart in her hand when she makes this wonderful homemade raisin bread. History repeats itself as more and more new homemakers discover the joys of the ancient art of bread making.

Taste surprising raisins, rolled oats and a touch of molasses add special interest to the moist flavorful bread. It's delicious plain or toasted and keeps well. Slices of raisin oat bread spread with plenty of butter are the makings for a popular coffee break party menu.

RAISIN OAT BREAD

- 2 cups rolled oats
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 3 tablespoons molasses
- ¼ cup shortening
- 2½ teaspoons salt
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 envelopes dry yeast
- ½ cup warm water
- 4½ to 5 cups sifted flour
- 1½ cups dark or golden raisins

Place in bowl rolled oats, sugar, molasses, shortening and salt; pour boiling water over all, stir and let stand until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water; add to cooled oat mixture. Add half of flour and beat well. Add remaining flour and raisins to make medium stiff dough. Knead lightly. Place in greased bowl and cover with damp towel. Let rise in warm place until double in size (1½ to 2 hours). Punch down and let rise again to double, about ¾ hour. Form into two loaves and place in lightly greased loaf pans (8½ x 4½ x 2 inches). Let rise until light and well-round above edge of pan (30 to 45 minutes). Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees F. and continue baking 35 to 40 minutes. Cool on rack. Makes 2 loaves.

Bargains

National sandwich month will be kicked off with a bang this weekend, with supermarkets featuring a wide variety of meats at bargain prices.

Turkeys and broiler-fryers still lead the thrift parade. But beef steaks and roasts, as well as cuts of lamb and pork also will be available at attractive prices.

Sherbert Cake A Sure "Hit"

Here is a suggestion for a summer dessert that is simple to execute but has all of the appearance and taste of a glamour food that one might expect to find at an expensive caterer's shop. Another nice thing about this cake is that it may be made at your leisure and then stored in the freezer until you are ready to use it.

Here is what you do:

Bake a two-layer butter cake, using a cake mix if you wish. When the layers are cool split them in half. Put the layers back together with three different colors and flavors of sherbet.

For instance, alternate raspberry sherbet, lime sherbet, and pineapple sherbet between the layers — or any other colors of flavors of sherbet you may desire.

For the cake frosting try this:

Add six tablespoons of sugar and one teaspoon of vanilla to one and one-half cups of whipped cream. Cover top and sides of the cake and put it in the freezer at once. This recipe makes enough dessert for 12 servings.

State Theater

Raleigh, N.C. (AP) — The Vagabond Players of Flat Rock have won a special designation from the state's General Assembly. The legislative body passed a joint resolution designating the troupe as the State Theater of North Carolina. It is the second company in the nation to be so honored. Several years ago Virginia named the Barter Theater at Abingdon as the state's official theater.

Kansas '61 Industrial Development Law Is Upheld

Topeka, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas Supreme Court upheld the validity of a 1961 industrial development law but expressed doubt about the wisdom of the act.

The law was designed to allow cities to issue revenue bonds to acquire a site or to construct agricultural, commercial, industrial and manufacturing facilities.

The law empowers cities to lease or sell such facilities under lease-purchase agreements with the proceeds to retire the revenue bonds. The law's validity was challenged by state Attorney General William Ferguson.

The action was brought to test the law in a case involving proposed issuance of 130,000 in revenue bonds in the city of Pittsburg.

Nebraska has a similar law, passed at a special session of the legislature last summer.

The proposed bond issue at Pittsburg was to purchase a site and construct and equip a building or other facilities for lease to a textile firm.

In its challenge of the law the attorney general's office contended it would allow issuance of bonds for other than a public purpose and would unlawfully delegate legislative powers to cities.

The court's decision was unanimous. The opinion said:

"Notwithstanding there are members of this court who entertain serious misgivings and doubts as to the wisdom and propriety of the act under consideration, it nevertheless is held not to violate the constitution on any of the grounds asserted."

Pollution Control Council Ends Work With Homer Request

State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi said Wednesday that committee work for the State Water Pollution Control Council has been completed on a request from Homer that it be allowed to dump untreated raw sewage into streams.

Filipi would not reveal the recommendations of the committee, pending a vote of the council members. The recommendations will be sent to the members for a letter ballot.

Officials from Homer, a small village in northeastern Nebraska, have said they are in immediate need of a sewage collecting system to eliminate a serious health problem resulting from cesspools, privies and septic tanks.

The sewage would, if the request is granted, be let into a creek running through the village.

Village officials say that adequate sewage facilities will be completed within a 5-year period.

Vigorously opposing the granting of such permission is State Game Commission Director Melvin O. Steen. He said the council would be "giving blessing to the very thing we're trying to get rid of."

Filipi has said that such an approval might set a bad precedent.

Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, however, has pointed out that the sewer system would bring better immediate health conditions to the village.

Homer officials say they are financially able to pay for both the sewer system and sewage treatment plant at the same time, but added that they are unable to find a market for bonds to finance their construction.

The community hopes to build sewage treating facilities after 5 years by accumulating sinking funds from a two mill tax levy, reserves from service use charges and, if necessary, additional financing.

An Omaha investment company has been unwilling to finance both projects since a flood in the area could knock out almost one-third of the sewer connections.

Homer has experienced a flood about every 20 years with the last one occurring in 1940.

Members of the committee submitting the report to the council were Director of Water Resources Dan Jones, Council Chairman John Samson and Steen.

Scottsbluff Contracting Firm Is Incorporated

Firemen Benefit

Lockport, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen benefited when fewer young people than expected stayed for breakfast after a sunrise service at First Presbyterian Church. July State Liquor Tax Revenue Shows Rise

Revenue collected in July from liquor and beer taxes and fees totaled $292,385, the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission reported Wednesday.

This is a slight rise over June receipts, $288,316, but below the $303,017 received in July 1960.

Total money collected as of Aug. 1, was $1,991,254, compared to $1,885,050 the same time last year.

Farm Price Index Up 3 Points

The Nebraska all farm commodity index at mid-July stood at 245, up 3 points from June but down 10 from July, 1960.

In its monthly report, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said that compared to June, prices for most grains, hay, hogs, sheep and lambs were higher but the index change was moderated by lower cattle and calf prices.

The decline from a year ago was largely due to lower prices for corn and most meat animals. Higher prices for other grains and hay limited the drop.

The all crops index at 184 was one point higher than a month earlier and was two points above last year. At 267 the all livestock and livestock products index was two points above June but 15 below a year earlier.

For the month ending at mid-July, Nebraska farmers received an average of $16 per hundred pounds for hogs and $20.50 for cattle.

This was the lowest average price for cattle since October of 1957.

Calves averaged $22.80, the same as a year ago.

Sheep brought $4.10 and lambs $17.40.

Milk cows brought $200 per head.

Butterfat averaged 60 cents per pound and wholesale milk $4 a hundred pounds.

Milk retailed by farmers at 20 cents per quart. Chickens averaged 8.9 cents per pound and eggs 27.2 cents per dozen.

Wheat averaged $1.69 per bushel, corn, $1.01, oats, 61 cents, barley, 73, and rye, 83.

Grain sorghum at $1.60 per 100 pounds was up 21 cents from July of last year.

All baled hay averaged $14.60 per ton, up $1.40 from the previous month and $1.70 last year.

Dry edible beans were unchanged at $6.50 per 100 pounds. Soybeans averaged $2.39, a decline of 4 cents from last month, but 56 cents higher than a year earlier.

Need For Harvesting, Drying Equipment Told

"We need harvesting and drying equipment to handle crops in such a way that they will keep good, look good, sell good, feed good and mill good," a Cozad farmer declared here Wednesday.

Earl Mead made the comment at the opening session of a two-day Crop Conditioning Equipment Conference in the Nebraska Center on the College of Agriculture campus. More than 40 manufacturers and distributors of crop conditioning equipment from several states registered for the Conference.

Mead, who has been drying grain crops for many years, explained that "we need equipment that will harvest grain at high moisture contents without damage. Harvesting grain at high moisture levels is necessary to preserve the nutrients.

"When harvesting is done early, there is less chance for crop losses due to wind," Mead continued. "Corn losses due to wind amount to as much as 25 to 50% of the yield in our area."

George Woolsey, Clay County Extension agent, said "6% of the U.S. crop production is lost each year in storage. This amounts to over a billion dollars annually. Most of the losses are a direct result of the way grain is handled before going into storage and the rest is due to the way grain is handled in storage.

Woolsey reported that Clay County is considered to be the leading county in Nebraska in terms of drying grain crops. Some 8 million bushels of grain are stored in the county and over 1 million bushels were dried with natural air. Individual farmers are drying 1200 to 40,000 bushels of grain each year. Most of the drying systems have been installed since 1956.

Clyde Noyes, state leader in the University's Agricultural Extension Service, said "farmers, manufacturers, educators and scientists need to work as a team in applying new crop conditioning technology on the farm. Such teamwork will be a necessity if we are to meet the increasing needs for food and fiber in this country."

Changes Noted

Dr. E. F. Frolik, dean of the College of Agriculture, commented that the field of crop conditioning has changed considerably during the past 20 years. With the exception of silage, crop drying in the past was done by the sun or air. Today farmers are using equipment to harvest crops earlier and machines to dry and condition the grain in the bin.

Ted Nelson, NU farm economist, explained that "farmers soon will be reaching the point where they have watched the innovators and early adopters long enough and will be acquiring crop conditioning equipment at increasing rates. The advantages of early harvest are sufficiently numerous and of such magnitude that little else can be expected."

East Berlin Tightens Exits

Berlin (AP) — East German Communists tightened police controls around this tense city Wednesday and boasted that "some day we will lead all Germany."

Another 1,110 refugees from East Germany streamed into Marienfeld reception camp despite new Communist police measures and threats. Several hundred other refugees arrived but did not register, officials reported.

The Communists announced formation of committees in factories to stop the refugee flow. West Berlin officials said Communist police at rail points around this city 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain have tightened controls and arrested many East Germans trying to escape.

In their attempts to halt the commuters, the Communist police also were reported to be taking up identity cards, a loss which makes life much more difficult in the east.

The boast that the Communists some day would rule Germany came from Gerhardt Eisler, top German propagandist, writing in East Berlin's Berliner Zeitung.

"Our fist to those who believe their reactionary backwardness gives them the right to treat our security and the interests of our citizens disgracefully," he wrote.

Five East Germans charged with espionage and enticing people to flee the Red regime were sentenced after a televised trial to prison terms of two to 15 years.

The Communists try to give the impression that the only reason people flee East Germany is that they are lured by western "traders in human beings."

West Berlin authorities said that during July, 800 people living in Red territory were forced to give up their jobs in West Berlin.

About 52,000 East Berliners or East Germans are registered as working in West Berlin. Experts think there actually are about 80,000.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said the Communists measures against East Berliners who work in West Berlin was an example of what would happen in West Berlin if the Communists ever took over that part of the city.

A private Western intelligence agency, Information Bureau West, said East German State Secretary Helmut Koch has announced that food production and imports scheduled to next year "will not be enough to fill the needs of our people."

The agency also reported that the party suffered a defeat in elections to a union committee at a factory in the East German town of Schwerin.

It said only 7 of 17 candidates were party members although the party had insisted that 70% of the candidates hold membership. Others who were told to run refused.

In the ensuing election, the non-party candidates received votes from about 88% of the plant's 900 workers.

July Social Security Rolls Make Record

Washington (UPI) — Social Security claims reached an all-time high in July as a result of changes in the law which will benefit about 4.7 million persons, the government reported Wednesday.

The Social Security Administration (SSA) said more than 100,000 men between the ages of 62 and 65 already have applied to take advantage of the new law which permits them to retire on social security for the first time.

The law became effective Aug. 1, but beneficiaries will not receive increases until September.

The SSA said that during July its offices received 397,010 claim applications. This was an average of about 100,000 per week, compared to 50,000 to 60,000 before Congress amended the law.

One amendment entitled men to retire at age 62 instead of 65 on lower benefits. This change was designed primarily to aid unemployed.

Officials expect some 560,000 men to start collecting the reduced benefits during the coming year.

No Progress Made In Two District Fight

Chamber of Commerce negotiators apparently made no headway Wednesday in their attempt to resolve the controversy between the Sanitary District and Salt-Wahoo Watershed District.

A Chamber spokesman said no statement or comment would be made after a closed-door meeting Wednesday with representatives of both districts.

The Sanitary District has proposed a half-mill levy to continue its operations into the 1961-62 fiscal year.

Not Ready Yet

It contends the watershed district is not financially able to assume the sanitary district's duties and obligations.

The Salt-Wahoo district says it is willing and able to take over and has called upon the sanitary district to make no levy.

The sanitary district levy will be set officially Aug. 8.

Sec. Salinger Plans Press Talks In Paris

Washington (UPI) — White House press Secretary Pierre Salinger will fly to Paris Thursday night for a series of meetings with western press chiefs on information policies concerning the Berlin crisis.

Salinger will accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who will attend a Western foreign ministers conference in Paris. The foreign ministers are meeting to draft diplomatic moves to counter the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

There was no indication of whether Salinger also would make preliminary arrangements for a Western summit conference which he said earlier is a definite possibility by the end of the year.

Jobs And Unemployment Show June Increase

Nebraska jobholders increased in June by 27,400 over the May figure.

But, the number of Nebraskans holding jobs was still 3,900 below June, 1960.

According to figures released by the Nebraska Department of Labor, the June job total was 664,300.

Unemployment rolls during June were 1,250 higher than a year ago, reaching 24,200, or 3.5% of the state's labor force.

Trend Reversed

In the Lincoln area, an unemployment downtrend was reversed in June by students and graduates entering the work force, the Labor Dept. said. The Lincoln area unemployment figure was 1,250 above June, 1960.

Total employment was down 2,450, largely due to labor disputes which affected the construction industry.

Statewide figures showed a monthly increase of 1,200 workers in construction jobs and 700 in transportation, communications and other utilities.

Declines were noted in manufacturing, 2,700; and government 2,900.

Gains Reported

Year-to-year gains of 10,000 jobs were reported in the trade field, 900 in service and 800 in finance, insurance and real estate.

Nebraska's 53,200 production workers in manufacturing earned an average of $90.94 per week in June, an increase of 47 cents from May.

June year-to-year comparisons showed an overall rise in average weekly earnings of $2.93. The work week remained almost steady with only 0.1 hour rise. Average hourly earnings jumped 6 cents to $2.13, the Labor Dept. report said.

Motorcycle, Car Hit, Cyclist Slightly Hurt

John E. Lombard, 23, of 4443 Madison Ave., was slightly injured Wednesday afternoon when his motorcycle was involved in a collision with a car driven by Luella V. Shipman, 47, of Grand Island, on Holdrege between 22nd and 23rd.

Both cars were eastbound on Holdrege, according to police, when the accident occurred.

Lombard was treated at the Wesleyan Medical Center.

CD Official Interested In Wheat Plan

Washington (AP)—A Civil Defense official Wednesday expressed much interest in a proposal by a Nebraska group that wheat be processed into edible form before being stored near coastal cities for use in event of an enemy attack.

Edward A. McDermott, deputy director of Civil Defense Mobilization, said:

"I am tremendously interested in the proposal. It appears to have great possibilities."

The meeting was prompted by a proposal, still under consideration by an Agriculture Department task force, to move about 2 million bushels of wheat from the Midwest to 88 target areas on the east and west coasts.

The Nebraska group, part of a committee on food rations for civil defense manned by Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison, feels it would be best to process the grain before moving it. The group said research has shown that wheat and other cereal grains can be processed into wafers or bars, immediately edible and storable for long periods, and then shipped to strategic points.

McDermott has set up meetings Thursday for the Nebraskans with officials of the Defense Department and the Agriculture Department, which are in charge of providing food in event of an attack.

In the Nebraska group are State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan, State Adjutant General Lyle Welch, Don Doescher, State Resources Division; John Kelley, assistant to Morrison; Winton Buckley, Lincoln Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee; Jack Hart, Lincoln Journal editorial page editor representing the Lincoln Chamber; and J. Leroy Welch, former chairman of President Eisenhower's committee on industrial uses of agricultural products.

Five GOP House Members Protest Sugar Allocations

Washington (AP)—Five Congressmen from sugar beet areas said Wednesday domestic sugar beet producers have not been allocated any of the sugar quota once allotted to Cuba.

They termed "wholly misleading" a statement attributed to a Hawaiian sugar industry official that the Hawaiian can sugar industry has been hurt because the American beet sugar quota has been increased with the former Cuban allotment.

In their statement issued after a meeting they said:

"American sugar beet producers have not been allocated a single ounce of the former Cuban sugar quota. All of the former Cuban quota has been allocated to foreign nations."

The statement was issued by Reps. Catherine May, R-Wash., Don L. Short, R-N.D., Odin Langen, R-Minn., Ralph Beermann, R-Neb., and Hjalmer Nygaard, R-N.D.

Railroad Gives Up Gravid Elephant As Practical Joke

London (UPI) — The British Railways search for an elephant was called off Tuesday night after 6 frantic hours. The search was touched off when an invoice from London arrived at Piccadilly in Manchester, saying, "Elephant weighing two tons due Picadilly for special attention at Bellevue Zoo during childbirth."

Zoo officials said they knew nothing about any such elephant, but the railroad pressed its search. That was fruitless and officials began a new search — for a railway employe who must have cooked up the whole scheme as a joke.

Unity, Trust Musts

German Girl Sees Chiefs

By Margrethe Plum

The German girl clapped her hands together in excitement.

"There's nothing as important as freedom for Berlin and a united Germany.

"We all trust. We all must trust.

Trust Important

"Nowadays trust is the most important thing we can have."

She punctuated her sentences with silent claps. Her head nodded its agreement with the words.

Ingeborg Rautenborg is a 24-year-old German from Dortmund, a large industrial city in northwest Germany.

She is a technical calculator in a steel smelting plant in Dortmund, but for a little over a month she is in America participating in a German-American youth exchange sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and a similar German organization.

She is one of 7 Germans visiting Lincoln for 3 weeks.

"There's only a small difference between people here and us in Europe. That's important.

Not Too Different

"I was astonished, because I thought there would be more differences between Germany and the United States," she said.

"People here are more free and everybody can do what he wants.

"In Germany, it's more correct. You must do it," Ingeborg smiled.

Ingeborg, who's father is a branch manager of one of Germany's steel plants, is an only child.

"People clap their hands and shake their heads when they hear it," Ingeborg chuckled.

Tours, Shopping

While in Lincoln, Ingeborg and her fellow Germans have been on tours to the State Historical Society, the State Museum, the Capitol and a Lincoln bank.

"I must confess I've never been inside a bank in Germany to see how it works," she said.

Ingeborg has also been shopping "in every shop in every corner," in Lincoln.

Her purchases? Books, including one by John Steinbeck and one by Agatha Christie.

"It's difficult to get English books in Germany," she explained.

Ingeborg has also seen the Lincoln Chiefs in action.

"There were all these men in the same colored uniforms. I couldn't tell which party belonged to which team.

"I noticed the red face on the sleeve of the men from Lincoln. Then I knew nearly, but not exactly" which men were for which team, she admitted.

While she is in Lincoln, Ingeborg is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Graul of 3181 Alden Ave., and their 3 children, Jim, 9, Karen, 7, and Janice, 2.

Birch Society Many Things, Attorney Says, But Not Illegal

Sacramento, Calif. (AP)—California's attorney general said today the right-wing John Birch Society is authoritarian, Paranoiac and often ridiculous—but not illegal.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk made his 15-page "personal observations" in answer to a query from Gov. Edmund G. Brown on whether the society is unlawful. The report was actually written by Asst. Atty. Gen. Howard Jewel.

"The cadre of the John Birch Society seems to be formed primarily of wealthy businessmen, retired military officers and little old ladies in tennis shoes," the report said.

"They are bound together by an obsessive fear of 'communism,' a word which they define to include any idea differing from their own, even though these ideas may differ even more markedly with the ideas of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Khrushchev."

The report called Welch an "embittered candy maker from Belmont, Mass.," who sought to combat communism with some violence if necessary.

"In assessing patriotism most Americans would feel the need for differentiating between a paid agent of the Soviet espionage apparatus on the one hand and an American who believes in fluoridation or mental health programs, or the U.N. or federal aid to education," the report said.

Congress Urged To Legislate Medical Drug Advertising

Washington (UPI) — The Administration asked Congress Wednesday to crack down on misleading drug advertising going to doctors.

Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, told the House Health and Safety subcommittee that legislation was needed to require drug firms to make a "truthful disclosure" of adverse side effects in some prescription medicines.

Dixon said some of the promotion material appearing in medical journal advertisements and being sent to doctors through the mail is not giving this information.

He said busy physicians cannot possibly keep up with all the latest scientific literature describing ill effects. Thus, Rand said, it is probable some of them are influenced by only what they read in the advertisements.

"Many of these new drugs have profound biochemical effects on various processes of the human body and possess grave potentialities for harm and perhaps irreparable injury to health and even life itself, if not properly used or administered," Dixon said.

But he said that many of the drug advertisements going to doctors have "tended to emphasize only the favorable aspects of some potent new drugs."

Dixon said the Federal Trade Commission had found a number of ads which are "highly questionable" because of this.

He urged approval of a bill by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., to require drug firms to set forth vital information in all advertisements and promotion material.

George P. Larrick, U.S. Food and Drug commissioner, said the Food and Drug Administration found that doctors were being "misled."

Stevenson Fails To Budge French, Tunisian Positions

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) —U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson failed Wednesday to budge France or Tunisia from their positions in the Bizerte crisis in private talks in New York.

Stevenson's failure increased the probability that the Afro-Asian group would call the United Nations General Assembly into an extraordinary session to discuss the Bizerte situation, possibly by next Monday.

Informed sources said the crux of U.S. efforts to arrange private talks between France and Tunisia, averting a U.N. showdown, shifted to Washington, where Tunisian Defense Minister Bahai Ladgham conferred with President Kennedy.

Court Soviets

Kennedy was counted on to use his utmost peruasiveness to arrange a quiet French-Tunisian settlement of the dispute. But while Ladgham was in Washinton, Tunisian Foreign Minister Sadok Mokkadem was in Moscow, dispatched by President Habib Bourguiba to court Soviet support. Prospects were dim that the diplomatic deadlock would be broken.

Stevenson, who returned Tuesday from Paris, where he had talked with President Charles de Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France, conferred this morning with Armand Berard, French ambassador to the United Nations.

Then he lunched with Mongi Slim, Tunisia's senior diplomat.

Informed sources said neither envoy gave Stevenson any hope of changing their country's position. Tunisia has expressed willingness to negotiate a Bizerte settlement provided that France acknowledges that it will evacuate the huge Mediterranean military base eventually. France has rejected this condition, maintaining its claim to Bizerte is based on an agreement signed in 1955 when it granted independence to Tunisia.

Tunisia Holds Trumps

Tunisia appeared to hold the diplomatic trumps. Afro-Asian spokesmen said they were assured of the 50 votes necessary to force a General Assembly session at which France was sure to be in for a propaganda beating. It was not certain, however, that the Afro-Asians could muster the two-thirds vote necessary for an Assembly censure of France.

The Afro-Aisans were known to have at least 34 countries signed to a demand for an extraordinary Assembly session. Ten more — the Soviet bloc plus Cuba — were in accord with the demand.

The request for an Assembly session must be filed with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. Russia and its satellites, boycotting Hammarskjold, did not want to sign a document addressed to him as secretary general but were reported ready to submit their own request for an Assembly session to "the U.N. Secretariat."

Tunis Wants Evacuation By French

Washington (AP) — Tunisia's defense minister Wednesday told President Kennedy that his North African country insists on complete evacuation of all French forces from Tunisian territory.

Bahi Ladgham, the minister, who is President Habib Bourguiba's right-hand man, conferred for 20 minutes with Kennedy at the White House after meeting with State Department officials for 3 hours.

Ladgham avoided reporters after the White House conference, and Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said he would have "nothing to say at this time" concerning the talks.

Ladgham's trip to the United States marks the beginning of a diplomatic offensive by President Bourguiba aimed at forcing France to quit the Bizerte base and pull out from a 30-mile strip of the Sahara. Other Tunisian envoys were sent to Moscow, Rome, and several African capitals.

Ladgham told reporters earlier that he brought from Bourguiba to Kennedy a message spelling out Tunisia's conviction that peace in that area can be restored only if the French pull out their troops from the Bizerte base.

THIS, THAT IN THE NEWS

—It's a toss-up between going and coming this morning. There are those who have returned, or are about to return, home — and then there are those who have gone trekking off to here and there for a few days of golf —and fun.

Golf is by no means an unimportant feature of the news since a tournament in Madison, Wis.—and a swingfest in Kansas City are not to be ignored.

We're not at all sure that "swingfest" is the correct title for the activity in Kansas City, but since it closely resembles the recent swingfest at the Lincoln Country Club — that's what we'll call it.

* * *

—Anyway some Lincoln couples were off to Kansas City on Wednesday—the men to participate in golf matches—and the women to join in the festivities.

Leaving bright and early Wednesday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie whose Kansas City host and hostess will be Mr. and Mrs. De Skinner.

And leaving at noon yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hunt who will spend the week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Harris.

* * *

—But it is a golf tournament that has taken Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deurmeyer to Madison, Wis. They also left yesterday. Mr. Deurmeyer will play in the tournament and we suspect that Mrs. Deurmeyer will be an avid spectator. The younger Deurmeyers, Stephen and Barbara, will keep their grandmother, Mrs. F. H. Deurmeyer, entertained during their parents' absence.

* * *

—Back in town a day or two ago were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Carter flew to the west coast, and then drove through sections of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon before going to San Francisco where they spent a few days with Mrs. Carter's sister, Miss Cecile White. From San Francisco—back to Lincoln.

* * *

—Expected at home a week from today is Bob Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, who has been a member of an eightsome, all Shattuck School boys, who toured Europe this summer with one of Shattuck's instructors.

* * *

—On Friday's arrivals list will be Mrs. E. W. Orme who has been spending the current week in Crawford.

* * *

—And someone told us that Mrs. Ben James and her children are spending several days at Dr. and Mrs. James' summer cottage at Wagner Lake, near Columbus.

Brides-Elect Reveal Plans

This morning, several week end brides-elect are announcing the members of their bridal parties.

The wedding of Miss Sue Schneider, a Chi Omega at the University of Nebraska, and Robert Dannert will take place Saturday afternoon at a 4 o'clock ceremony at the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Cortland.

The maid of honor will be Miss Becky Schnieder, Cortland, and the bridesmatron will be Mrs. John Clark, Des Moines, Iowa. Miss Karen Schuster and Miss Marcia Boden will be the bridesmaids.

Lighting the candles will be Mrs. Raymond Balfour and Mrs. Richard Tempero.

The flower girl will be Miss Vicki Dannert, Creighton, and Doug Gerlach, Hallam, will be the ring bearer.

Herman Dannert, Creighton, will be the best man and the groomsman will be Bruce Carsten, Clatonia. Seating the guests will be Keith Coffey, Phillips, and Marvin Kyes, Central City.

Revealing the members of her bridal party today is Miss Donna Jean Barth, who will become the bride of Daryl L. Schoenfeld on Friday, Aug. 4.

For the wedding, which will take place at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Redeemer Lutheran Church, the bride-to-be has named Mrs. Fred Peterson as her matron of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Jan Zehr and Miss Eileen Eskew.

Miss Debbie Klein will be the flower girl, and the ring bearer will be David Klein.

Ronald Bauers will serve as best man and Tom Beach, Fred Peterson, and Rollin Michaud will seat the guests.

Announcing her late summer wedding date this morning is Miss Nancy Lynne Lewis of Verdon, who will wed Harvey Heimer of Salina, Kan., on Saturday, Aug. 26. Their wedding will be solemnized at a 2 o'clock ceremony at the Congregational Church in Verdon.

Miss Lewis has chosen her sister, Mrs. Wayne Howard of Greenwood, to be her matron of honor. And serving his brother as best man will be Roger Heimer of Scranton, Pa.

Sorority Activities

The members of Phi Beta chapter of Nu Phi Mu, the junior group of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, entertained recently at a "kidnap" party at Pioneer Park. Guests at the party were the presidents of Beta Sigma Phi Lincoln chapters who were "kidnapped" by their hostesses and held for "ransom" from the members of their respective chapters.

The evening was concluded with a watermelon feed for the entire group of Nu Phi Mu members and their guests.

Last week, the Phi Beta chapter members met for a barbecue supper at the home of the chapter sponsor, Miss Eileen Motz.

We Hear That

Mrs. Hiram Kellogg, former Lincoln resident, who has been visiting in the city as the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. K. McKain, left Saturday morning to return to her home in Dallas, Tex. She was accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Kellogg, who will visit briefly in Dallas before going to Corpus Christi, Tex., where they will visit their son, Jim, who is serving with the Navy. During her stay in Lincoln, Mrs. Kellogg was honored at a luncheon, for which her sister, Mrs. McKain, was hostess, and at several informal affairs for which the hostesses were Mrs. Jesse G. Faes, Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mrs. George L. Ross and Mrs. P. N. Kelly.

★

Houseguests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Booth were Mrs. Richard Shacklett and her daughter, Renee. The visitors returned to their home in Dixon, Wyo., Tuesday.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been debating with this buddy of mine about whether a person can start growing hair on his head after he has been bald for a number of years. He says yes and I say no. He has spent a fortune on all sorts of remedies. He has been going for treatments, and has even been sleeping with sheep dung on his head, but he is still as bald-headed as ever.

Can you or anyone else tell me if there is anything known to man that will actually restore hair on a man's head after he has become bald with age?

DOUBTING THOMAS

DEAR TOM: The only way a man can be sure of having a lovely head of hair, after he has become bald, is to buy a hair-piece. Most of those hair-raising tales are just hair-raising tales.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My wife has become a problem. I think she is just right, but she thinks she is too fat. She is always going on some sort of diet. For days at a time she will not eat enough to keep a canary alive. This makes her very cross and irritable. She yells at the kids and snaps at me. How can I convince her that I would rather have her a little on the heavy side and her old sweet self?

SATISFIED

DEAR SATISFIED: The way to a woman's brain is through her ear. Tell her!

DEAR ABBY: I got up to give my baby her 2:00 a.m. bottle, and I heard the neighbor's children, ages 2 and 3, screaming. Their mother is a night waitress who works from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., and their father is supposed to be home. His car wasn't in the driveway so I went over there and tried to get in. The house was locked up tight. I telephoned the mother at her place of work, and she said she'd come right home in a cab. A few minutes before she arrived, her husband came in the back door. He said he never left the place, and was there all the time. I was called a meddling busybody, and a few other things.

My husband is a trucker, and has seen this man coming home at 4 and 5 in the morning. What can be done, Abby? What if those babies were locked in the house and a fire broke out? I can't sleep nights for worrying about them.

ONLY HUMAN

DEAR ONLY: The husband is obviously irresponsible, so you had better talk plainly with the wife. Let her know that her babies are being left alone and, unless she wants to be taken to court for neglecting her children, she had better stay home or arrange for competent help.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, in care of this paper and enclosed a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New Neighbors In Suburbia

MEADOW LANE

News from the diaper set tells us of the arrival of little John Daniel Prien, III, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Prien, Jr., who was born on Monday, July 24, at Bryan Memorial Hospital. The other members of the younger generation of the family are six year-old Debby and thre year-old Deanna.

Mrs. Prien is the former Joanne Eppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Eppard of East St. Louis, Ill. The paternal grandfather is John D. Prien of Ord.

And a guest at the Prien home now is the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Eppard, who will be here for several weeks.

The second newcomer to the talcum powder set in suburbia is Steven Lee Hardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hardt, who was born on Monday, July 24, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The young man has a four year-old sister, Sandra.

Mrs. Kramer is the former Doris Kramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Kramer of Stuart. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hardt.

The welcome mat is out for Lt. and Mrs. Raymond M. Bara and their two children, five year-old Michele and John, who is four years old. Formerly living in Wichita, Kan., the Bara family moved to Lincoln and 931 W. Avon Lane the latter part of July.

And the former occupants of that home on W. Avon Lane, the Arthur M. Rodman family, have moved from the city to a home in Elmwood.

Additional new residents on W. Avon Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Battiato and their three children, Lou Ann, Dean, and Tommy. Formerly residing at 3135 Q, the family moved the first of July to 1005 W. Avon Lane.

As you no doubt recall, the Phillip J. Dassero family formerly lived in that house on W. Avon Lane. But they have moved from Lincoln and their new address is 1640 So. Washington in Casper, Wyo.

And over on Meadow Dale Drive, we find that Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Pearce and their very young daughter, Lauren Beth, who is just 19 days old, are getting settled in the new house at 1016 Meadow Dale Dr. Their former home was in Wichita, Kan.

Moving from 7235 York Lane recently was the Marvin Persinger family. Their new home is at 2701 No. 27th, Apt. 12.

Now residing at 2427 Isabella in Sioux City, Iowa, is the Charles D. Platt family, whose Meadow Lane address was 7240 Holdrege.

Also moving from a home on Holdrege recently was the Lester C. Luther family, whose Lincoln address was 7419 Holdrege. Their mail is being forwarded to their new address, 4805 West Mellberry, in Phoenix, Ariz.

And the new address for the Arlo Murken family which includes Arla, Joseph and David, is 2130 Brentwood Drive in Springfield, Ill. Their suburbia address was 1026 Lancaster Lane.

Understand that Lt. and Mrs. Henry E. Grogan and their two young sons, two-year-old Mike and Scott, who is nine months old, have moved into Meadow Lane. The Grogan family moved the first part of July to 1330 Lancaster Lane from their former address, 2900 No. 57th.

And over at 501 Northborough Lane we find that Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Angone and their seven-year-old daughter, Jane, are the new residents. Their former address was 302 Witherbee.

One final change for the Meadow Lane address book—that of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Haith, Jr., and their children who formerly lived at 540 Northborough Lane. They have moved to 5203 No. 84th Ave., in Omaha.

In further news from the talcum powder set we heard of the arrival of little Jane Katherine Simpson, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. George Simpson, on Sunday, July 30, at Lincoln General Hospital. Jane has a two-year-old brother, George, Jr., and a sister, Ann, who will be four years old Sept. 1.

Mrs. Simpson is the former Alice Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Gardner of Norristown, Pa. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Simpson, reside in Denora, Pa.

And now visiting in Lincoln and getting acquainted with her newest grandchild is Mrs. Simpson, who will be here for several more weeks.

EASTBOROUGH

The welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald R. Kunz and their two daughters, five year-old Carla and Ronda, who is four years old. Formerly residing in Jacksonville, Ark., the Kunz family moved to Lincoln and 729 East Eldora Lane the first of July.

ASK— Dorothy Draper

Ice cream is an all-year 'round delight not just for sweltering days. You may turn off your air conditioner and turn on the furnace, but ice cream still looks good!

What has this got to do with decorating? I'm suggesting that you use some of the luscious ice cream colors to help you plan your next refreshing color do-over!

Think of your choice of colors in mint green pistachio, rosy-red cherry, rich brown chocolate, red-ripe strawberry, tangy orange ice, yellow lemon ice and the deep magenta of raspberry sherbet.

Can you see these translated into rooms? I omitted white vanilla but, of course, that is the basis for all the fascinating "sauces" or color splashes that give individuality to a room.

Let's imagine a room with chocolate-brown walls, sofa in lemon-ice-yellow, two chairs in pistachio, lemon and orange ice print. Rug in orange ice and curtains in vanilla. You could get the red-ripe strawberry color in a vase, a painting of the fruit, or a lamp base.

Why not try an ice cream room? It should be delectable!

Mrs. R. J. C. asks:

"I have two royal blue Paoli chairs in light walnut. Therefore I would have to get a sofa and carpeting to blend with the chairs. I would appreciate it very much if you could give me some suggestions as to color of sofa, carpeting and walls."

Dear Mrs. R. J. C.:

Paint the walls a deep midnight blue. Use white curtains, sofa in a white and royal blue print. Carpeting in a lively Empire green. That should make an attractive setting for your two royal blue chairs.

D. C. asks:

"I am 14 years old and my parents are building a house. It will be the first time I have had my own room so they told me I could decorate it. Tell me if my ideas sound right and if not could you please help me. The furniture I have is all maple and consists of a dresser, mirror, nightstand, double bed and a desk. The room is 13x10 and I was thinking of painting it white with a purple rug. The curtains are going to be white with purple and pink flowers. The bedspread will be white with a purple stuffed animal on the bed. I would appreciate your criticism very much. Oh, we have two little dogs (real) and I was thinking of painting their bed white and putting a purple mattress on it. Then I am going to put it in my room. How does that sound?"

Dear C. D.:

I think it all sounds very attractive. Be sure the purple rug is a nice deep violet-purple! Those dogs of yours sound as if they were "born to the purple"!

Opening lead—three of clubs.

When you are missing six cards of a given suit, they will be divided 3-3, 36% of the time; 4-2, 48%; 5-1, 15%; 6-0, 1%.

When there are five cards of a suit missing, they will be divided 3-2, 68% of the time; 4-1, 28%; 5-0, 4%.

Memorizing this table of probabilities is not really a matter of life and death, but anyone not familiar with these figures in a general way is working under a handicap

Let's see how these statistics are applied to the accompanying hand. Suppose you are declarer in four hearts and West leads a club. It is obvious that you can take five trump tricks, three diamonds and a club.

This bring you to only nine tricks, but there is a chance of winning a tenth if the diamonds are divided 2-3. However, this gives you only a 36% chance of making the contract, which is not exactly a healthy prospect to look forward to.

There is a different way of viewing the play, though, which offers a far greater chance of success. It depends largely upon the trumps being divided 3-2, which is something that occurs 68% of the time.

The proper way to play the hand is to win the club and ruff a club. Then cash the ace of hearts and lead a heart to the ten. When both defenders follow suit, you know that the trumps are divided 3-2.

Ruff another club, enter dummy with a diamond, and ruff dummy's last club with your last trump. Cross to dummy with a diamond and extract West's remaining heart with the jack. This sequence of plays brings you to nine tricks, and the king of diamonds provides you with number ten

The over-all effect of these plays is that you make six trump tricks instead of five. The suggested method of play makes you about a 2-1 favorite to make the hand, while if you draw trumps immediately and rely upon a 3-3 diamond break, the odds are almost 2 to 1 against you.

DOWNTOWN GATEWAY

Spur Route Set Near Stadium

Construction of a spur route from the Interstate into Lincoln will gradually bring motorists closer to the University of Nebraska Memorial Stadium during football season.

Bids have already been let on a small center section of the 3.2 mile $7 million route designed for cars to reach the heart of the city faster.

Deputy State Engineer G. C. Stroebel Wednesday said until 1963 vehicles from Omaha on the Interstate will have to leave that roadway at Highway 77 outside of Lincoln.

By 1963 however, Stroebel said, a portion of the spur will be finished and cars will be able to drive to Oak St. north of the city and proceed south to the stadium on 10th St.

The access route will be completed late in 1963 or early 1964 and the following football season fans from Omaha or anywhere north or east of Lincoln will be able to turn off at 9th and S St., only a short distance from the stadium and surrounding parking facilities.

The entire 52 miles of Interstate 80 between Lincoln and Omaha is now finished and will be open for traffic following a ceremony Friday, Aug. 11.

430 Students At KearneyCommute

Kearney — Thirty-two per cent of students enrolled for the summer session at Nebraska State College are commuting, a survey reveals.

Each day 430 students get up a little earlier, eat a quick breakfast, and jump into the car for the trip to Kearney for classes some of which begin at 6:50 a.m.

The total student mileage driven is more than 16,000 miles each day.

One woman student drives from Genoa daily, a round trip of nearly 200 miles. A car load commutes from North Platte each morning, returning home after noon.

The 430 students drive from 70 towns and cities from Broken Bow and Ord on the north to Beaver City and Franklin on the south and from North Platte to Genoa.

. . . HOUK WATCHES ON TV

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees won two games from Kansas City Wednesday, 6-5 and 12-5 with the help of 4 Athletics' errors and Mickey Mantle's 40th home run. But Whitey Ford failed in his bid for his 20th pitching victory of the season.

As manager Ralph Houk, starting his 5-day suspension for a run-in with umpire Ed Hurley Sunday, watched the sweep on the clubhouse TV, the Yanks capitalized on Kansas City errors to win the opener in the 9th inning.

Then in the second, Mantle got the Yanks off in front with the homer that tied teammate Roger Maris for the major league lead and left them 17 games ahead of the pace set by Babe Ruth when the Bambino hit his record 60 homers in 1927.

Mantle's homer was No. 360 in 1501 games and put him in a tie with Eddie Mathews for 10th on the all-time list, one behind all-time Yankee great Joe DiMaggio.

But for errors by Wayne Causey, Dick Howser and Joe Pignatano, Ford could well have been charged with his 3rd defeat and have had his string of 13 straight victories broken. As it was the victory went to his relief, Luis Arroyo, who now is 8-3.

Ford singled two runs home in the 8th to send the Yanks ahead 5-3. But Heywood Sullivan hit a two-run pinch homer in the 9th to knot it at 5-5.

Jim Archer, however, weakened in the 9th and loaded the bases on Maris' single, Mantle's double and an intentional walk before Gerry Staley was called in.

Staley got Yogi Berra on a pop foul but on Bob Cerv's grounder Pignatano dropped the throw to the plate from Causey and Maris scored the winning run.

The Yanks, with Ralph Terry coasting to his 7th victory in 8 decisions after getting 9th inning help from rookie Hal Reniff, scored 3 times in the first inning of the nightcap on Tony Kubek's single, Maris' double and Mantle's homer.

. . . 1-HITTER

Los Angeles (AP)—Right-hander Juan Marichal scored his second straight shutout with a brilliant one-hitter Wednesday night as the San Francisco Giants knocked the Los Angeles Dodgers out of an 8-game winning streak and into second place by defeating them 6-0.

Felipe Alou slammed two homers for the Giants and drove in 4 of their runs.

The Dodgers' loss put them a full game back of the Cincinnati Reds, who took over first place by winning a doubleheader with Philadelphia, 4-2 and 3-2.

Marichal, who blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 July 27, struck out 11 and walked only 2 as he picked up his 8th victory in 15 decisions. The Dodgers got only 3 men on base, two of them on walks.

Lefthander Johnny Podres worked 6 innings for the Dodgers, giving up 4 runs and took the loss. He is 13-3.

Tommy Davis got the only Dodger hit, a fifth inning single.

Cincy Dumps' Patsies' Twice To Regain Lead

. . . PHILS FALL 4-2, 3-2; NOW 0-FOR-14

Cincinnati (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds stormed back into first place in the National League Wednesday night as they swept a twi-night doubleheader from their favorite "patsies," the Philadelphia Phils, 4-2 and 3-2, while the Los Angeles Dodgers lost to San Francisco.

The twin triumph, coupled with the Los Angeles defeat, left the Reds 5 percentage points and 1 full game ahead of the Dodgers.

It also gave the Reds a record of 14 straight victories without a defeat against Philadelphia this season.

Jim O'Toole pitched the opening victory, with a helping hand from Bill Henry, to boost his season record to 11-8. Joey Jay, now 15-6, won the second although he was yanked in the 6th after giving up 10 hits. Sherm Jones finished.

Vada Pinson and Gordon Coleman socked homers in the first game to support O'Toole while a raft of singles, including a two-run hit by Frank Robinson, beat the Phils' Chris Short in the nightcap.

Chiefs Cuffed 3-0, Fall Back Into 4th

. . . BEES, BEATRICE FANS HERE TONIGHT

By Don Bryant

Lincoln's 3rd place hopes suffered a setback Wednesday night as Fox Cities' John Miller shutout the Chiefs, 3-0, with a 5-hitter.

Thus, the Foxes depart with a game lead over the now 4th place Chiefs.

Tonight Burlington's buzzing Bees come to Sherman Field to open a series which will include a Friday night doubleheader.

Skipper George Noga will start Stover McIlwain (7-6) against Pete Peterson's Bees. It will be Beatrice Night with a host of fans from that city joining in the festivities.

Lincoln simply had bad luck Wednesday night in the weird contest that featured among other things:

—Fox manager Earl Weaver spending more time arguing and debating over nothing than a Russian in the U.N., even demanding that Umpire Joe Ring announce in the 9th inning that the game was being played under protest, the reason for which is still clouded. He withdrew it after the game.

—Gary Johnson getting 3 hits in 3 trips and Dayton Orsburn going 2 for 3 to account for all of Lincoln hits.

—Nary an extra base hit by either club.

—Five of the 8 Fox hits never cleared the infield as the Chiefs made some brilliant fielding plays, but couldn't make throws after stopping the balls.

—Lincoln register 4 nifty double plays.

—Fox Cities register only two assists as Miller had the Chiefs popping up and skying out.

Hardluck guy of the evening had to be Bob Hamet, the young rookie out of Western Michigan who was aiming for his 4th win.

Through 5 innings he yielded only 4 hits. The first when a trickler down the 3rd base line stayed fair when allowed to roll in the 4th; the second on a shot through the box that second baseman Al Bullock made a diving snare on but couldn't recover to make a play; the 3rd on a line shot to 3rd that Orsburn dover for and stopped, recovered and threw to first but an instant too late; the 4th a bunt single.

But in the 6th two of 3 singles cleared the infield and resulted in all the Foxes' runs.

A walk, Joe Pulliam's single set the stage for the ice breaker and Chuck Smiley's single to center supplied it. An infield out made it 2-0 and Noga brought in Dennis Higgins to douse the fire.

Higgins was touched for another infield single as the 3rd run scored before serving up a double play pitch.

Johnson and Orsburn, batting 2-3 in the order, got a rally going with singles after two were out in the 8th, but none of their mates were having any success with Miller.

Smoke Signals . . . Weaver's protest came after the umpires ruled the ball dead on an overthrow of first . . . Chief catcher Al Schrader has a sinus infection . . . Attendance was 1,049, a fine Ladies Night turnout, who joined the other over-1,000 groups who have seen the Chiefs get whacked.

—TIGERS SPLIT, LOSE GROUND—

SENATORS' ROOKIE GOAT, THEN HERO

Detroit (AP) — Rookie Bud Zipfel, the goat in Washington's first game loss, salvaged the second game of a twi-night doubleheader for the Senators Wednesday night when he hit his first major league home run in the 11th inning to help beat the Detroit Tigers 6-2.

The Tigers won the opener 4-3 on Charlie Maxwell's 3-run pinch homer in the 6th inning.

The split cost the Tigers a full game in the American League pennant race. The first place New York Yankees beat Kansas City twice and now lead the Tigers by 2½ games.

Zipfel, a 22-year-old just brought up from Houston, smacked a one-out home run into the upper right field stands for the winning run off Phil Regan in the nightcap.

The Senators quickly rushed across 3 more runs on 3 singles, a walk and an infield out.

Zipfel's error in the opener kept alive a Tiger rally in the 6th capped by Maxwell's home run. He dropped the relay on a double play grounder that would have ended the inning.

N. Carolina's McGuire Quits To Join Warriors

Philadelphia (AP) — Frank McGuire, head basketball coach of the University of North Carolina, Wednesday night was named the new coach of the National Basketball Association's Philadelphia Warriors.

Owner Eddie Gottlieb announced the successor to Neil Johnston after Chancellor William B. Aycock broke the news at Chapel Hill earlier when he disclosed McGuire had asked to be relieved of his duties as of Aug. 31.

Gottlieb said McGuire will be head coach and vice president of the NBA club. He signed a 3-year contract, Eddie said. No salary figure was revealed, but a club spokesman said the total McGuire will receive as coach and vice president of the Warriors is one of the highest in the nation in either pro or college basketball.

McGuire has had an outstanding record as cage coach at North Carolina, including one national championship.

At North Carolina his squads won 164 and lost 58 in 9 seasons. His best record was with the national championship team of 1956-57, which went undefeated in 32 games.

Speculation had been widespread that he would leave the university, especially since a de-emphasis program was announced recently following the current basketball gambling scandals.

Aycock said the university agreed to release McGuire "with regret, but with our deepest good wishes."

TO AVOID POLITICAL BROIL:

Fullmer Win Is Must

Ogden, Utah (AP) —A victory by Cuban challenger Florentino Fernandez over middleweight champ Gene Fullmer in their 15-round title bout here Saturday night could embroil the division in a political battle much bigger than any boxing match.

There is a return match clause in the contract if the 25-year-old Fernandez wins. And in the fine print is a statement which requires the Cuban to stay in the United States for 90 days until the next bout.

The idea is to keep Fernandez from taking a quick trip home to Cuba where premier Fidel Castro, with a middleweight champion to taunt the U.S., might keep him — "Champion Florentino 'Si', Rematch 'No'."

So the Fullmer camp isn't taking any chances on Castro interference if Fernandez wins.

It could throw the middleweight division into a turmoil and leave Fullmer out in the cold.

Fullmer's voluable manager, Marv Jenson, is worried about the outcome even though the National Boxing Association titleholder is a 9-5 favorite. Jenson said:

"The winner is going to have to get up off the canvas to win it."

Fullmer and Fernandez have each been knocked out once — the champion by Sugar Ray Robinson with a 5th round left hook in 1957; the challenger by Rocky Kalingo in Caracas in 1959. Both avenged the defeats.

Neither man depends much on defense. Both like to put on pressure. The result could be an explosion in the outdoor battle in Ogden Stadium. It will be televised (ABC) starting at 8 p.m. (CST).

REASON FOR SLUGGING:

Expansion Has Thinned AL Pitching—Williams

Boston (AP) — Ted Williams says American League hitting has improved this year "because the pitching has thinned out."

In an interview with Hugh Wheelwright, Boston American sports writer, the former Boston Red Sox slugger said:

"Now, I don't want to take anything away from Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle—they're both great hitters—but they're batting against guys they never would have seen in previous years.

"When Maris can hit a homer every 8 times at bat, something is out of proportion. Even Baby Ruth only averaged a home run every 15 or 16 times."

Williams said expansion of the league to 10 teams has reduced the calibre "of the major league as we know it."

Williams, who came here for Monday's All-Star Game, said if the fences hadn't been moved back in Washington and if it wasn't difficult to hit in Baltimore and Kansas City, sluggers would "have things even more their own way."

Williams explained that the lights are too far away in Baltimore and that there is a poor background there in the daytime. There's no background in Kansas City, he added.

"The better pitchers should win more today because expansion has kept more weak hitters in the league," he added.

Philley's Pinch Hit Earns Orioles Split

Baltimore (AP) —Pinchhitter Dave Philley's 8th-inning single gave the Baltimore Orioles a 4-3 second game victory over the Minnesota Twins Wednesday night and a split in a twi-night doubleheader.

The Twins won the opener 4-3, scoring all their runs with two out in the 9th inning after being held hitless for 7 innings by Oriole loser Chuck Estrada.

Minnesota batters fanned 20 times during the night, 10 in each game, but they came through in the clutch against Estrada.

Bases-loaded doubles by Hal Naragon and Bill Tuttle, each good for two runs, provided reliefer Bill Pleis with his 3rd victory.

The nightcap hit was Philley's 19th in 47 pinch attempts, good for a .404 average and 16 runs batted in.

Hoyt Wilhelm, who struck out 7 and didn't allow a run in 5 innings of relief, won his 8th game in the nightcap.

TIGERS, A'S MAKE TRADE

Kansas City (AP) — The Kansas City A's sent 3rd baseman Reno Bertoia and Gerry Staley, veteran relief pitcher, to Detroit Wednesday night and got Ozzie Virgil, a catcher and infielder, from the Tigers.

It was a kicker to a deal in which Kansas City recently obtained pitcher Bill Fischer from Detroit.

Bertoia came to Kansas City from the Minnesota Twins earlier this year. He is a former Tiger. Staley come to the A's from the Chicago White Sox.

To cut their roster to the 25-man limit, the Tigers sent lefthander Hal Woodeshick (4-3) to Denver on 24-hour recall. He came to Detroit earlier this year from the Washington Senators.

Rafer To Recruit For Peace Corps

Washington (AP)—Rafer Johnson, winner of the decathlon at the 1960 Olympic Games, named a special recruiter for the Peace Corps.

Sargent Shriver, director of the corps, said Johnson's post is a voluntary, unpaid one on a part-time basis. Johnson's recruiting will be through speaking engagements and visits to college campuses.

Johnson, 25, is a 1958 graduate of UCLA.

Cunningham's HR Lifts Cardinals Over Pirates

St. Louis (AP) — Joe Cunningham's 3-run homer in the 7th inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night.

Cunningham hit the first pitch served up to him by reliever Bobby Shantz after Bob Lillis and Julian Javier had singled.

Ken Boyer sent in the first Redbird run with a single in the first inning which scored Javier who had doubled.

Roberto Clemente hit his 17th homer of the year for Pittsburgh in the second inning. The Pirates scored in the 7th on Smoky Burgess' single, his steal of second and Shantz' single.

Larry Jackson went all the way for the Cardinals, giving up 8 hits, walking none and striking out 3. He now has a 7-8 record. Loser Shantz is now 5-3.

Shantz relieved starter Bob Friend when Friend was hit on the left instep by a hit ball. An X-ray examination showed Friend suffered only a bruise.

Schilling Ignites Bosox In Sweep Over Angels

Boston (AP) —The Boston Red Sox swept a doubleheader from Los Angeles Wednesday, 8-7 and 7-2, with rookie Chuck Schilling smashing a game winning homer in the nightcap and igniting the winning rally in the opener.

Los Angeles reliefer Art Fowler, who had won 5 straight, was the loser in both games.

Schilling, a boyish-appearing second baseman, cracked Fowler's first pitch to him in the 9th inning of the second game into the screen atop the left field wall, breaking a 7-7 tie.

In the first game Schilling's run producing single touched off a 5-run Boston 8th inning that broke open a 2-2 tie game. That hit also was off Fowler.

Tracy Stallard started Boston's second game but was bombed out in the 6th as the Angels fought back from a 2-6 deficit. It was Stallard's 33rd appearance of the season and he has yet to get a decision.

New Card QB Impressive

Toronto (AP)— The St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League trounced the Toronto Argonauts of Canada's Big Four Wednesday night in an exhibition game that was costly to both teams.

The Cardinals lost two tackles by injuries. Ken Panfil went out with a dislocated kneecap early in the game and his teammate, Ernie McMillan, was helped off later with an injury to his left leg.

The game also marked the St. Louis debut of Sam Etcheverry, 9-year veteran of Canadian ball with Montreal. Etcheverry played only 2:25 seconds of the last quarter and engineered two touchdown plays.

Cubs-Braves Stopped By Darkness After 11

. . . MILWAUKEE WINS OPENER, 4-2

Chicago (AP) —The Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee played to a 7-7 eleven-inning tie called on account of darkness in the second game of a doubleheader Wednesday after the Braves won the opener 4-2 on the strength of a 3-run explosion in the 8th inning.

The umpires suspended play at 7:05 p.m. (CDT) with bright sunshine flooding Wrigley Field. As players and umpires walked off the field the officials were roundly booed by the remaining fans among the original paid turnout of 19,587.

The suspended tie game will be made up Sunday, Sept. 3 when the Cubs and Braves will play a doubleheader instead of a single game.

During the standoff Milwaukee overcame a 4-1 deficit and took a 7-4 lead in the 7th when Hank Aaron smashed his first 1961 grand slam homer. It was Aaron's 27th homer of the season, and the 4th slam of his career.

Liston Rearrested, Released

. . . GRAND JURY TO DECIDE FATE IN LIGHTS OUT CHARGE

Philadelphia (AP)— Charles (Sonny) Liston, rearrested for allegedly trying to avoid identification by a police officer, was released in $500 bail Wednesday. The No. 1 heavyweight boxing contender now must await action by a grand jury.

Judge Victor H. Blank released the fighter in bail after a hearing in which a Fairmount Park guard testified Liston turned off the lights of his car to avoid identification.

Liston and a companion, Isaac Cooper, 26, first were arrested July 1, after a chase in which one shot was fired. The two allegedly forced a woman to draw her car to a curb and told her they were policemen.

Liston, Cooper and the woman are Negroes.

Released Earlier

Magistrate E. David Keiser discharged Liston and Cooper asserting their only crime was a mistake in judgment. The fighter and his friend apologized to the woman, 39-year-old Mrs. Dolores Ellis and the incident apparently was over.

But the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission wasn't satisfied with Liston's explanation. It ordered him to show cause why his boxing license should not be suspended. At a hearing several weeks later, Liston promised to be good and threw himself on the mercy of the commission.

The commission, also angered by an arrest of Liston for corner lounging a month earlier, suspended the boxer for actions detrimental to boxing. It said he would be considered for reinstatement when he proved he had a respect for the law.

Last Crossroad

The commission warned Liston, an ex-convict, this was the last crossroad for him in a career dotted with crossroads.

Meanwhile, the district attorney's office reopened the park case resulting in Wednesday's arrest and hearing.

Turning off lights to avoid identification is an indictable misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of up to $500, and a jail sentence of up to 3 years, or both.

Liston, top challenger for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title, appeared in court with his attorney, Morton Witkin, and his manager, George Katz. When the hearing was over he slipped out a side door.

The latest fight rankings disagreed on Liston's status. The National Boxing Association dropped him from its list, but Ring Magazine continued him as the No. 1 contender.

JCs Not Sponsors

In Wednesday's Star it was incorrectly stated that the Bocar sports car which will be on display in Lincoln, starting Saturday, was bringing the car to Lincoln. The Jaycees are not involved in any way.

—SHRINE BOWL ALL-STARS—

Falls City Whiz Smith Doubles As Chess Bug

Falls City's Bruce Smith probably has the most unique hobby of the Shrine Bowl football players.

The bruising fullback is a chess bug.

Smith

He also plays good football, gaining Class B all-state honors last year.

Bruce lettered 3 years in football at FC and added two letters in basketball and track. He has played an important role in Falls City's 19-game winning streak in football.

An honor student all 4 years, Smith was 8th academically in his class. He is 6-0 and weighs 185 pounds.

In Falls City's closest game of the year, Smith caught a screen pass on the last play and raced 64 yards for the deciding score against Nebraska City.

Big Man In Togs

At first glimpse, John Strohmyer of Lexington wouldn't appear extraordinarily big.

But put him in football togs, like those he'll wear for the North in the Shrine Bowl game, and he takes on added stature.

Strohmyer

Actually Strohmyer is one of the largest North players — 205 pounds—but it is spread over a 6-2½ frame.

Where he really gets big—and Lexington foes will agree—is when he takes his post in the line, either on offense or defense.

Strohmyer was all-Southwest Conference for two years. He was also named to the North Platte all-foe team.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas is John's sports idol and his top thrill last year was beating Cozad at Cozad.

PAPPAS PAPA

Baltimore (AP)— Milt Pappas, 22-year-old pitcher with the Baltimore Orioles, Wednesday became the father of a 6 pound, one-quarter ounce boy.

The baby, first for the Pappases, was named Steven John.

Government May Force Sale Of Overseas Cables

Washington (AP)— The government disclosed Wednesday it is considering whether to require the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to give up its $40-million-a-year overseas operations.

"We have that question under consideration," said Lee Loevinger, head of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division.

Loevinger, in an appearance before the Senate Small Business Committee, said the giant communications company "is the subject of an investigation" by his division.

The inquiry, he added, stems from complaints of alleged violations of the antitrust laws. He did not give the source of the complaints.

All this was news to AT&T, which issued a statement in New York saying it felt it was "in complete compliance with the antitrust laws."

Shares Plunge

It also was news to investors and stock traders. The company's shares plunged $4.62 to close at $121.

Loevinger said AT&T has complete control over all overseas telephone calls to and from the United States — a "100% monopoly" was the way Benjamin Gordon, committee economist, described it.

The company's overseas operations, which consist entirely of international telephone calls, accounted for only a fraction of its $7.9-billion operating revenues for last year.

Gordon told the committee the volume of overseas calls, now averaging about 3 million a year, is expected to soar to 100 million a year by 1980.

The Senate committee got into the subject during a hearing on prospects for setting up a space satellite communications system.

AT&T has been licensed by the government to put up the first privately owned and operated commercial satellite. The company told a Senate Commerce subcommittee Tuesday it expects to send up its first experimental communications satellite in the first half of next year, and to have the system in commercial operation by 1965.

Includes Safeguards

The license agreement has been described as including safeguards against monopolistic development of the project.

Loevinger told the small business committee he believed the fact that Russia has surpassed this country in some space achievements is due in part to "undue concentration of economic power and to monopolistic control in these areas."

He did not define these areas, but he had been discussing concentration of power in the electronics industry.

Loevinger said he considered the Western Union Telegraph Co. was "less monopolistic" at the time it was required to divest itself of its overseas operation than AT&T is now. Gordon then asked why, if this is so, the AT&T should not be required to divest itself of overseas operations.

Loevinger replied the question is under consideration.

Interviewed by newsmen later, Loevinger said he considered his testimony amounted to a declaration that the Justice Department is looking into "the entire situation at AT&T and that the possibility of divestitute would be included because the study covers every conceivable principle."

Gordon contended the Federal Communications Commission "never has determined the reasonableness" of AT&T's overseas telephone rates, adding:

"Obviously, the FCC hasn't been regulating this at all."

Loevinger, however, asked to be excused from saying whether he thought another agency "is or is not doing its job."

Justice Of Peace Fee Problems Are Exception, Says Auditor Johnson

By William Stephens
United Press International

State Auditor Ray C. Johnson said Wednesday that Nebraska is "over the hill" as far as enforcing the payment of fees collected by justices of the peace.

The statement came only two days after a Falls City justice was charged with 17 counts in Richardson County Court for irregular fee payments and poor bookkeeping.

Johnson said that after a rather bad shortage in funds received some 4 or 5 years ago, the case now is the exception rather than the rule.

"Now that they know they're subject to an audit, they're getting fewer and fewer," Johnson said.

He explained that the normal procedure is for the county attorney to request an audit when irregularities are suspected. Johnson said his office has never had to initiate the audit and does not know if it can legally do so.

"If I had reason to believe something was wrong, though, I'd go in regardless," he added.

Johnson said the hardest hit by the illicit justices are foreigners, Air Force men and soldiers. The airmen and soldiers are, he explained, usually arrested on a Friday night and made to pay their fines in a justice of the peace court. Normally they are traveling from their stations in Kansas or Missouri for a weekend home in Lincoln or Omaha.

"Sometimes they have to be back to camp on Monday and the constable just takes them to a post office where they mail their fine to the justice."

In this manner there is no receipt or other record of the fine having been paid.

The law states they must remit the fines within 10 days, Johnson said. "Under this procedure who knows when they collect it?"

Johnson said several audits have taken place on justices operating along U.S. Highway 30. Only Tuesday the Dawson County attorney asked for an audit for a justice in Lexington, he said.

The Falls City audit was the second on U.S. Route 73 in recent months.

Many investigations begin with an anonymous letter written by an irate motorist, Johnson continued. One such letter was received in the Falls City case, he said.

As to the value of the justice of the peace system, Johnson was a little doubtful.

"I'm not a lawyer and I'm not a judge," he said, "but most judges and attorneys are very united with the opinion that they should be done away with."

As a compromise with this extreme, Johnson ays more serious restrictions should be placed on the justices. He would not elaborate on these restrictions.

Rumors Heard

Johnson said that although his office has heard rumors of fee-splitting going on between justices and law enforcement officials, he has never been able to prove a case.

Fee splitting is a practice whereby the justice's fee is split with the arresting officer if that officer favors his court.

If such collusion does exist, it exists between the justices and the local constables and does not involve any member of the Safety Patrol, Johnson said.

Discoverer XXVIII Launch Postponed

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. (UPI) — Launch of the Discoverer XXVIII satellite was called off Wednesday minutes before the capsule-carrying rocket was to be fired aloft.

The Air Force did not offer any immediate explanation, nor did it announce a new date for another attempt.

Discoverer XXVII had to be destroyed shortly after launch two weeks ago.

Conrad Selected For $18,000 A Year Post

Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to the late Gov. Ralph Brooks, will become commissioner of Transportation and Public Utilities Services in the General Services Administration if approved by the Civil Service Commission, it was learned Wednesday.

The commission is now conducting its usual federal check, and if it approves, Conrad will become a Schedule C federal employe with a Grade 18 job rating and an annual salary of $18,500.

Conrad was requested to come to Washington 3 weeks ago to confer on the GSA post and did so.

An attorney and former executive secretary of the Nebraska Democratic party, Conrad was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor last year, and was later the Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate seat held by Carl Curtis following Brooks' death.

Conrad was a contender for the post of U.S. District attorney in Nebraska when the Kennedy administration took office, but he was opposed by Gov. Frank Morrison against whom he ran in the primary last year.

Morrison said he would not oppose Conrad for another federal post.

Utah Sheriff Captures City Jail Runaway

Richard E. Barneski, 22, of Falls City, who escaped from City Jail July 6, has been recaptured by the Salt Lake City, Utah, sheriff's office.

Barneski was serving a 6-month sentence for speeding, operating a motor vehicle on a suspended license and having no valid driver's license.

He has refused to waive extradition. Plans are to have him returned to Lincoln on charges of escaping from custody, according to Police Chief Joe Carroll.

A hearing on Governor Morrison's extradition request will be held by the Governor of Utah Sept. 1, Carroll said.

25% Of Moisture Meter Machines Rejected

The Railway Commission has rejected 25 per cent of the moisture meter machines it has examined since compulsory inspections went into effect last year, Joseph Brown, commission chairman, said Wednesday.

The machines measure the moisture content of stored grain.

Brown said one-fourth of the 761 meters tested so far have been found defective and will have to be adjusted before they can be used again.

The 1959 Unicameral passed a law which Brown said, makes Nebraska the only state which requires inspection of moisture measuring machines.

The law allows deviations of one-half of one per cent on grains with less than 22 per cent moisture and one per cent tolerance for meters measuring grain with moisture content in excess of 22 per cent.

A Rare Mixture

Englewood, N.J. (AP) — "The Negro spiritual's melody is closely akin to, and in some cases takes on definite characteristics of, the traditional Jewish melodies," says William Farley Smith. That Smith should have an interest in both types of music is understandable. He is a Negro Baptist who serves as organist for Congregation B'nai Yeshurun here.

Work Started On Most Powerful Nuclear Reactor

Washington (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission said work has started on a nuclear reactor—the most potent of its kind in the world—which may help scientists understand why some stars explode and how others are formed.

The reactor, being built at Oak Ridge, Tenn., will generate the world's most intense steady beam of neutrons for research. Neutrons are subnuclear particles which can be used to build atoms heavier than any found in nature on earth.

Among these elements is Californium-254. It spontaneously undergoes fission, releasing enormous amounts of energy. Only small amouts of Californium have been produced artificially on earth. But it apparently is manufactured in large amounts in the universe of stars.

Scientists believe the splitting of Californium atoms plays a role in the stellar explosions known as supernovae.

The Oak Ridge reactor will cost about $12 milion by the time it is put in operation in early 1964.

Buffalo Decision Reversal Sought

A motion to reverse a Buffalo County District Court decision in an accident suit has reached the Nebraska Supreme Court.

In the suit Margaret Peterson of Thurston County charged Allen and Floyd Skilles of Phelps County and Robert and Edward Schroeder of Dawson County of negligence in an accident which occurred on June 7, 1959, north of Kearney.

She asked $150,000 in damages for personal injuries received in the accident.

The Buffalo County Court ruled in favor of the defendants.

CARPETS—DOWNSTAIRS

It is my opinion that hats do not export well. A hat that looks smart and a little daring on the streets of Athens looks terrible in the United States. On me, anyway.

I have just taken stock of my hats. It is a pretty gay assortment.

One brown snap brim with a Hawaiian feather lei band that cost me a king's ransom. (Sometimes I wish I had ransomed a king instead. I would point to him and tell the neighbors how much he cost.)

I find one Basque beret. (That was a day, mon vieux!) I bought it in Paris. Once in a while I sneak it out and look at it in the mirror. Wow! I wore it only once after I got home. It is a memory I still can not bring myself to speak about.

I have a green homburg from Locke of London. Dashing, dash it all.

☆ ☆ ☆

One ten-gallon Stetson. Presented by Walter Ramage on the Mapes Hotel in Reno. "Great for wearing in parades," Ramage said. But to this day, no one has asked me to ride in a parade.

I have a green stocking cap from Lisbon. All the picturesque fishermen were wearing them. It seemed a good idea at the time. A white Panama from Ecuador. Woven under water.

And now I seem to have this sombrero from Hidalgo del Parral. Not just an ordinary sombrero. But one of those hats like the riders of the northern plains wore into battle. With a wingspread of about three feet. I have the feeling I will find little occasion to wear this hat.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is a fair wardrobe of toppers. Though, as you can see, it lacks a cap. Caps are very popular these days. It is because of the sporty youths who drive sports cars. If you ride in a sports car, you must wear a cap.

This seems an odd way to go about dressing yourself. But that is the way life is these days. Get a sports car, get a cap.

Personally I have not had a cap since I rode a Ranger bicycle. We all wore caps at that time. We wore them backwards to show that it was a speedy operation. Like Cannonball Baker.

I took a look in the photo album—something I seldom do and I do not recommend it, it is so discouraging—and found a picture of me in a cap. I was also wearing a type of short pants which we called plus-4s.

☆ ☆ ☆

The cap is on one side of my head. And the knickers are big enough to carry home the groceries for the week end. I am also wearing a striped blazer.

I have disowned this grinning, snapshot youth.

If my children ever run across this picture, I shall claim it is an obscure cousin. "The one we never talk about, poor boy."

☆ ☆ ☆

I cannot remember whether I was fond of this cap. I guess I liked it. For I was wearing it the day the Brownie snapped and recorded it as an all-time warning. Wearing it with a silly sort of hang-jaw look of self approval. Some pumpkins.

I suspect I got that cap because everybody else was wearing a cap.

I will buy any hat as long as the next man has one. I will even buy a Pancho Villa sombrero.

But I will not put it on. Not even for a snapshot.

Ed Department Staff Cut Seen By Decker

State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker says the State Education Department's staff is going to have to be reduced in order that the department may live within its tightened budget for the current biennium.

Only staff resignations could obviate the need to ask some employes to quit, he said.

The department is "doing everything possible" to trim expenditures, Dr. Decker said.

The department had $529,981 on which to operate in the last biennium. The 1961 Legislature provided nearly $50,000 less.

The department's annual state educational directory, heretofore printed, will be duplicated this year and persons wanting the directory will have to send self-addressed envelopes with 21 cents worth of stamps to get a copy.

Young Recruit

Ellicottville, N.Y. (AP) — Timon Keith Raimondi of nearby Rushford has applied for appointment to the U.S. Military Academy in a letter to his congressman, Rep. Charles E. Goodell (R-NY). Timon is 6 years old.

But these economies will not be sufficient, he said.

Dr. Decker said the Legislature's Budget Committee, while cutting the department's budget, never did advise what services should be cut back to accommodate the new budget.

Study Group Urges: 'Scrap Conventional Math Courses'

New York (UPI) — An international group of mathematicians proposed Wednesday to scrap virtually all the familiar high school courses in mathematics, including Euclidian geometry.

They have been outdated by electronics, relativity, computers and the soaring importance of abstract mathematics as the basis of modern science, said Dr. Howard Franklin Fehr, professor of mathematics at Teachers College, Columbia University, who made the report public.

In place of the old courses in algebra, geometry and trigonometry, the mathematicians propose a course of study to stress the logic, structure and unity of mathematics as a whole, taught in what is essentially a new language.

The mathematicians proposed a new field of instruction in probability and statistical inference — the field of applied mathematics described as the drawing of conclusions or making decisions on insufficient evidence. This is a concept already familiar, if inadequately understood, to most Americans — the process used by pollsters, decision-making businessmen, politicians and social studiers as well as physical scientists.

The recommendations are contained in a 246-page report, "New Thinking in School Mathematics," which is the work of a seminar sponsored by the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) at Royaumont, France, late in 1959. Participants included mathematicians and educators from 17 OEEC nations of western Europe, plus Canada and the United States. Fehr is author of the report.

Less Difficult

Despite the revolutionary change for teachers, the new course of study should be less difficult for students than the present fragmented instruction, Fehr said.

There is more challenge and interest for children in the new mathematics than in the old, he said. "One of its characteristics is its clarity, its cleaness of concepts. It has symbolism that is meaningful."

But the job of converting out-dated teachers and textbooks to the new science of numbers is staggering. It has been under way intensively in this country for 3 years, Fehr said. He estimated the job could be done by 1970. But he said Russia began changing its secondary mathematics education to keep up with higher mathematics in 1928. This lag has not adversely affected the end product. He rated the college and university mathematics of the United States and the U.S.S.R. as equal.

Third Hazardous Radiation Belt Around Earth Possible

Blacksburg, Va. (AP) — A famed British scientist Wednesday reported indirect evidence of a third and farther out "Van Allen" radiation belt-suggesting a possible additional hazard for manned space flight.

Dr. Sydney Chapman declared that while the belt has not been detected, the clues and calculations suggesting its existence are so strong that the civilian space agency is planning special satellite experiments, with new and supersensitive equipment, to go hunting for it at altitudes of about 24,000 miles above the earth.

Chapman, formerly a chief assistant at Britain's Royal Observatory, has been doing visiting research in the United States for several years, and presently is located at the high-altitude observatory of the University of Colorado.

He told about his new theory at a conference of American and Canadian space scientists jointly sponsored by Virginia Polytechnic Institute, the National Science Foundation and the Langley, Va., Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He said the evidence suggests the existence of a new belt surrounding the earth — except for areas above the poles — at altitudes between 20,000 and 28,000 miles.

Chapman says he figures the new, hypothetical belt contains protons and electrons from the Sun or elsewhere that have been trapped by the lines of force of the Earth's magnetic field. This is the theory explaining the two previously discovered belts, which range from 600 miles to more than 15,000 miles above the Earth.

Asked by a reporter whether such a belt would constitute a further hazard for manned space flight, Chapman said no real evaluation could be made until the belt is actually detected.

A recent survey on desserts revealed that pie is served more often for dessert in winter, followed by cake and pastry. Pie preferences, listed in order, were apple, cherry, lemon meringue, pumpkin, and chocolate. Cake preferences were chocolate devil's food, yellow, chocolate fudge, white, and angel food. Manufacturers of baking products whetted the appetites of consumers last year with $18½ million worth of national newspaper advertising.

Mac Urges British To Work For Unity

London (AP) — Rallying support for Britain's decision to seek membership in the European Common Market, Prime Minister Macmillan urged the British people Wednesday night to cast off traditional isolation and take a leading role in the free world's battle against communism.

"Our right place is in the vanguard of the movement toward the greater unity of the free world," he told the House of Commons. "We can lead better from within than from outside. I am persuaded we ought to try."

He said it would be a tragedy if Britain failed to merge its economic destiny with her European neighbors.

"In the long run," he said, "an island people as ourselves cannot maintain the high standards of life we want in an isolated, protected society."

Macmillan's speech came as the house opened a two-day debate on the government's announcement to seek Britain's admission into the present 6-nation European Economic Community (EEC).

Despite opposition elements in his own Conservative Party and in the opposition Labor Party, the house is expected to approve Macmillan's decision and clear the way for Britain to open negotiations with the Common Market nations — West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Macmillan again insisted the EEC must grant Britain concessions—especially to its system of preferential trade with commonwealth nations—but indicated Britain might give ground on its previous demands to retain its price support system for domestic agriculture.

"It may be that we should ultimately have to shift from the system where much of the farmers' support comes from the Exchequer to one in which arrangements are made to secure that the market itself provides a fair return to the producer," Macmillan said.

Hugh Gaitskell, Labor party leader, ordered his party to refrain from voting against the official government motion, but offered an amendment regretting that the negotiations were being conducted from "a position of economic weakness."

Alabama Legislators Babble To Save Congressman's Seat

Montgomery, Ala. (UPI)—Nine Alabama senators, sustained by liquid diet food and the restless naps they catch on National Guard cots, waged a filibuster Wednesday to save the political life of Congressman Kenneth Roberts.

The 9 started their talkathon at noon Tuesday and have kept it going continuously, except for a 20-minute break at midnight between legislative days.

It began when the Alabama Senate Rules Committee adopted a special order calendar Tuesday making redistricting one of the top orders of business on the snarled agenda of the Senate.

The 1960 census resulted in Alabama losing one of her 9 Congressmen and makes redistricting necessary.

A House-passed redistricting bill would carve up the present 4th Congressional district and force Roberts and Congressman Albert Rains into a contest to determine who will be dropped.

The new district would be made up of 7 counties now represented by Rains and 3 of Roberts's.

Roberts and the 9 north Alabama Senators waging the filibuster for him contend this rearrangement stacks the deck in Rains' favor and virtually assures Robert's election defeat.

But the filibusters, padding back and forth to their desks in stocking feet to answer quorum calls and to vote down adjournment motions, appeared unworried.

"The only way we can be licked," said John Gaither, "Is by the gavel."

Roberts, following the action from his downtown hotel room, also predicted victory.

Gaither and Sen. Bert Haltom, leaders of the filibuster, predicted their forces could consume the remaining 12 days of the regular session with talk. Under Albama law, the legislature must adjourn sine die after 36 legislative days.

SPRAY PAINT VANDALS HIT IN 3 SPOTS

Vandals wielding spray paint cans caused damage estimated at over $190 in 3 separate incidents.

R. J. Bauer, maintenance supervisor for Lincoln public schools, reported to police Wednesday that orange paint was sprayed on the east wall of Sheridan School and pink paint was sprayed on several windows and doors.

The Hall Realty Co. also reported paint damage to a house at 7420 Havelock Ave. on Wednesday. The back door was forced, and an upstairs wall and door were liberally sprayed with orange paint.

Lavender Window

Tuesday, Leroy W. Reents of 3320 So. 31st reported that paint had been sprayed on 3 corners and the drain spouts of his home. Lavender paint was used on a garage window.

In addition to random spraying, the vandals in each instance decorated their work with obscenities written in paint.

Police believe that juveniles may be responsible.

Travel Pay Out, Painting In

Washington, (AP)—A proposal to repeal a year-old curb on senatorial travel was eliminated Wednesday from a legislative appropriation bill.

Senate and House conferees on the bill agreed to strike out the repealer, which had raised the hackles of Reps. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, and Clare E. Hoffman, R-Mich.

But Gross and Hoffman made no headway against a $30,000 item to paint the ceiling of a Congressional garage on the Senate side of the Capitol. It stayed in the bill.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate conferees, told a reporter there had been a lot of misunderstanding about the proposal to repeal retroactively a restriction on senators' travel allowances.

He said the curb adopted last year prevented any senator or representative who travels directly to his home state on official committee business from being reimbursed for the cost. The repealer would have applied only to senators.

Putting the situation in concrete terms, Pastore said that last year Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., went to California with two other members of the Senate Small Business Committee at the request of the chairman to conduct some hearings.

Because Engle went directly to his home state, Pastore said, he was not entitled to reimbursement for his travel expenses and had to pay them out of his own pocket. The other two committee members, not being from California, were reimbursed for their expenses.

Pastore said he didn't put up a fight for the provision because Engle told him he already had paid the money and preferred just to forget it.

As for the $30,000 to paint the garage ceiling, Pastore said it wasn't even mentioned in the conference committee session.

The money total of the bill, $140,620,141 as it passed the Senate, was left unchanged.

Dutch Curb Inflation

The Hague, Netherlands (AP)—The government Wednesday decreed new credit restrictions to curb inflation. The new measures are aimed chiefly at instalment buying of consumer goods. Minimum down payments are increased from 15% to as much as 50% of the purchase price.

Shotgun Used As Bat Goes Off, Kills Fireman

Anthorn, England (UPI) — Fireman George Andrews was killed instantly Tuesday when he used his shotgun as a cricket bat.

Andrews was out for a stroll, carrying his shotgun, when he came upon his nephew playing cricket. He playfully swatted the ball with his gun and it was discharged.

PINES OUT, BUSHES IN

Giant pine trees at the north entrance of the State Capitol are being removed thos week and will be replaced by pfitzer bushes and sidewalks, R. C. Newell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said Wednesday. The trees had grown "so high they were detracting from the building, and were dying also," so the Capitol Building Commission approved their removal, Newell said. It was impossible to grow grass under the trees and the resulting mud in rainy weather was inconvenient for those who park along the driveway; therefore sidewalks will be installed, he said. (Star Photo).

10 Railroads To Fight 'Full-Crew' Laws

White Plains, N.Y. (AP)—Ten Eastern railroads Wednesday asked the State Supreme Court to declare unconstitutional New York's full-crew laws.

A brief filed here claimed the laws violate the state and federal constitutions.

It said the laws require railroads to keep unneeded employes on trains and cost them $12 million a year. This contributed to a total loss by the 10 firms of $29 million last year and $90 million during the first 5 months of this year, they said.

The laws jeopardize the future of railroads and result in the public being deprived of necessary improvements because of financial difficulties, they said.

Under the laws, the railroads said they must have an engineer, a fireman, a conductor, and 3 brakemen on all freight trains of more than 25 cars. On other freights and on passenger trains, they must have two brakemen and sometimes a baggage man, along with the engineer, fireman and conductor.

The suit was filed by the New York Central, the New Haven, Erie-Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, Long Island, Baltimore & Ohio, Lehigh Valley, Boston & Maine, Delaware & Hudson and the New York, Chicago & St. Louis.

Defendants are State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Robert J. Trainor, Westchester County district attorney, and the New York Public Service Commission.

The report said a P.S.C. study recently showed, " . . . There is no longer any reasonable relationship between the statutory full-crew requirements and the safety of the railroad operations, the employes and the public."

Algerians Hanged By European Mob

Bone, Algeria (AP)—Furious Europeans Wednesday night lynched two Algerians they accused of throwing a grenade into a crowded hotel bar.

One European was killed and two were wounded by the grenade.

Later, clashes between Europeans and Algerians occurred in several parts of the town. About a score of Algerians were reported injured in these incidents. Seven more were hurt when a bomb went off on the terrace of a Moorish cafe in the suburb of Joanonville.

Meanwhile plastic bomb explosions of the type set off by French rightists continued in several other Algerian cities, including Algiers and Oran. They caused extensive damage but few casualties.

Wilber Teacher's 33 College Years Ending

After going to college since 1928, Mrs. Mary Greer of Wilber will now receive her Bachelor of Science degree in education from the University of Nebraska.

Friday evening, the veteran of 32 years of teaching in the Wilber primary grades will don black cap and gown for the NU summer commencement exercises.

In the early days of her teaching career, "I was sitting pretty," said Mrs. Greer, who holds a life-time teaching certificate.

When she realized that a bachelor's degree would bring more money into the family budget, Mrs. Greer decided to work toward that degree at NU.

Since then, except for a 12-year period, she has taken 9 hours of college work a year.

Before Grandsons Go

"Besides, "I want to get my degree before my grandsons get to college," she said.

The mother of two NU graduates, Mrs. Paul Schupbach of Lincoln and Mrs. Glenn Zajicek of Wilber, Mrs. Greer has 7 grandsons.

When Mrs. Greer graduates Friday, she will have earned 144 hours credit and a certificate which enables her to teach kindergarten through 8th grade.

First, Mrs. Greer begins her 33rd year at Wilber.

Next summer, she will take a trip to Washington, D.C.

And then "in the back of my mind, I've got the idea I'd like to go on for a Master's," Mrs. Greer said.

Italians Ponder Nik's Lecture

Moscow (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave Italy's Premier Amintore Fanfani a two-hour lecture on foreign affairs Wednesday that left the Italian delegation wondering why it had been invited to Moscow at all.

A spokesman for the Italians said Khrushchev took up most of the intial 3¼-hour meeting with a long speech, propagandist in tone, and offering nothing new in East-West relations.

Khrushchev was quoted as saying there is need for discussion and negotiation on the Berlin and German questions, but asserted there must be an early German peace treaty.

The Italians left the first meeting evidently disappointed. In general they felt they were getting an outline of Soviet positions much as Khrushchef gave them to President Kennedy last June.

No Indication

They said they got no indication of why Fanfani received a surprise invitation several weeks ago to visit the Soviet Union at a time when East-West discord over Berlin was high.

During his long speech, Khrushchev dealt in detail with the Berlin situation and outlined Soviet views on disarmament.

The Italian spokesman said Khrushchev spoke at length on various guarantees for West Berlin should he carry out his promise to sign a separate peace treaty with communst East Germany.

Khrushchev's tone became firm and intent on the subject of Berlin, the spokesman said, and he "began using strong terms."

Strong Reply

The spokesman said Fanfani, in a half-hour reply, also used strong terms in outlining broadly the Western position on Berlin.

The spokesman said Khrushchev also insisted colonial countries be freed and said this especially applied to the Tunisian-French dispute over Bizerte.

"You are pushing on an open door," Fanfani was reported to have replied. "The West also is for the end of colonialism."

This cat has been cared for the past several months by Chris Kuhner, who has been unable to locate the cat's rightful owners. Kuhner has now turned the cat over to the Humane Society after paying for its license and care. The society placed 72 dogs and 15 cats during July, according to Patton. (Star Photo)

CONGRESS BEING URGED TO TAKE A SUMMER RECESS

Washington (AP) — Congress was urged to split its sessions in two so they would conform to the school year.

"I firmly believe most congressmen like to be with their families and work better when they are," said Frank Church, wife of the Democratic senator from Idaho.

Mrs. Church, mother of two young sons, said she spoke for congressional wives at a Senate Rules Committee hearing on resolutions proposing that Congress recess during the summer school vacation and come back in the fall.

Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., chief sponsor of one of the resolutions, said the idea has the backing of "the most attractive lobby on Capitol Hill."

But it wasn't just the wives of Senate and House members who were back of the proposal. Others who testified in support of it included Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., and Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine.

And Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Rules Committee chairman and Senate majority leader, said at the close of the hearing that "something along this line should be done." One big obstacle: Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., is against the idea.

The chief advantages of the plan, the committee was told, would be to promote the togetherness of Congress members and their families and thus improve the quality of legislation.

Mrs. Church said that the way Congress now works members with school age children are separated from their families almost half of each year.

Congress stays on here after school lets out and the children and their mothers go back to their home states. And then when school starts in the fall and the children and mothers come back here, Congress adjourns and the fathers go home.

Republicans Open '62 Push

Washington (UPI) — The Republicans formally opened their campaign for the 1962 elections by announcing a series of regional conferences to be held throughout the country in the fall.

GOP Chairman William E. Miller said the meetings, to be attended by top party leaders, would be held in the East, South, Midwest and Far West.

His announcement signalled the start of the GOP drive to win more statehouses, courthouses and the U.S. House of Representatives next year.

GOP national committee members, plus representatives of the senatorial and congressional campaign committees, will attend. Also to be invited are Republican governors, members of Congress and state leaders.

The first meeting will be held Sept. 12 and 13 at Hartford, Conn., for the New England and middle Atlantic states.

Time and place for the Midwestern meeting have not yet been fixed.

ICC Demands MoPac Data Within 20 Days

Omaha (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission Omaha phase of a hearing on possible discontinuance of two Missouri Pacific railroad Omaha-Kansas City passenger trains ended Wednesday, with the railroad being ordered to supply certain information within 20 days.

Clarence K. Young, ICC examiner, said he wanted a complete breakdown on "the revenue from passengers, mail, express and other sources from the two trains" along with a full accounting of expenses of operation.

Young demanded the figures on each train for 1959, 1960 and "the most feasible portion of 1961" after the railroad's assistant comptroller, J. E. Pedigo, St. Louis, had undergone heated questioning concerning methods used in determining revenue and cost figures.

Young said the information on out-of-pocket expenses will be similar to that provided by the railroad two years ago in a hearing on the discontinuance of its two Omaha-Kansas City night trains.

He set an additional hearing "for cross examination on the exhibit" for Kansas City Aug. 29. The present series of hearings is scheduled to continue Thursday afternoon in Atchison, Kan.

Discussion had centered around the validity of methods used in a cost-finding formula known as rail for G. It was used by the railroad to support its claim the two Eagle trains were losing around $400,000 a year.

Opponents testified figures, resulting from the formula, were too often obtained by applying a "theoretical formula based on hypothetical figures."

Robert Davis, railroad attorney, said Young's request for the breakdown could not be fulfilled before 30 days. Young had asked the figures by Friday.

"Tuesday your witnesses said the figures were available in his work sheets and attorneys for the protestors were given overnight to extract them," the examiner said. "Now you tell me it will take a month."

Pedigo was questioned at length by J. M. Caplinger, attorney representing the Kansas Commerce Commission, and Thomas Downey, representing the Missouri Public Service Commission.

Five afternoon session witnesses urged the two trains be maintained. They included: Mrs. Mildred Brown, editor of the North Omaha Star; Lee Casey, Auburn, funeral director; James H. Alden, Brownville; Dean Taylor, president of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Margaret Friesen, Auburn business woman.

Telephone, Du Pont Drop

New York (AP)—Profit-taking on Tuesday's advance first undermined and then torpedoed a stock market advance Wednesday, leaving the list lower on average and on balance.

Tuesday's upward breakthrough in the Dow Jones industrial average, far from signaling an advance to the 725-750 level, ran into a red stop signal. As a result, it declined 3.48 to 710.46.

Wide losses by two key issues — American Telephone and Du Pont — helped knock this, and other popular averages, downward.

"Telephone", as AT&T is known along Wall Street, dropped 4⅝ to 121 on turnover of 63,600 shares. Du Pont, a wide mover, fell 3 to 23¼.

Weakness spread through the steel, motor, chemical, oil and airline groups. Most other groups were mixed at best, with none showing any strength worth getting excited about.

This leit The Associated Press 60-stock average lower by 0.40 at 250.30. Industrials declined 1.10, rails rose 0.30 and utilities were down 0.20.

Over-all volume came to 4.3 million shares compared with 3.99 million Tuesday.

Statistics showed that 555 of the 1,289 issues traded declined and 490 rose, although new 1961 highs rose to 75 and new lows shrank to 7. The number of issues traded compared with 1,270 Tuesday.

On the most active list, only two of the 15 most popular issues rose. Jersey Standard was unchanged and 12 declined.

American Stock Exchange prices also were generally lower as volume rose to 1.32 million shares from 1.14 million Tuesday.

U.S. government and corporate bonds were lower.

Bond volume increased to $7.51 million par value from $6.64 million Tuesday.

Got That; Smokey May Get That Home Anyway

Washington (AP)— Smokey the bear may get his new home after all — without that loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Rep. Harold C. Ostertag, R-N.Y., said Wednesday a new ranger station for Smokey will be included in plans now being drawn for a major improvement program at the national zoo here.

Smokey, the bear used to promote forest fire prevention, is now housed in a cage much like the other bear cages. To get the kind of cage suggested for a famous bear like Smokey, the zoo said, would cost $75,000.

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., recently suggested a housing loan so Smokey could buy himself new quarters. But the housing agency said it doesn't lend money to anybody, including bears.

New Mexico, Smokey's home state, offered to take him back and give him a home in a national forest.

But Smokey still lives in his cage at the Washington zoo although Ostertag says his fans feel the bear should live in a special ranger station with his uniform and equipment on display.

In fact, Ostertag said, the question most frequently asked of zoo attendants, is: "Where is Smokey's uniform?"

Now, Ostertag added, there is fresh hope for Smokey.

"A major improvement program for the zoo is about to get under way and plans are being drawn for a new ranger station to house the country's most famous bear."

Ostertag was a sponsor 9 years ago of a bill, which later became law, that set up a special committee to pass on all requests for use of the Smokey bear symbol.

Since 1953, commercial use of Smokey's picture has brought the government $200,000.

Tourist Bus Of Americans Falls In Lake

. . . Eighteen Drown

Hergiswil, Switzerland (AP)— A tourist bus filled with Americans — mostly vacationing women school teachers — collided with a truck, careened through a protective barrier and plunged into the chill Alpine waters of Lake Lucerne Wednesday. Swiss police reported 18 of the 38 in the bus were drowned.

All but 5 of the 35 American aboard were women. The 3 others aboard the bus were the driver and the tour conductor and his wife, who were among the survivors.

None of the passengers came from Nebraska.

Those who lived scrambled to safety through open windows in the brief moment the bus rested on its right side in shallow water before sliding out of sight into a deeper part of the lake.

Hours after the disaster divers struggled in the darkness without success in an attempt to locate the luxury motorcoach and free the 17 bodies trapped inside.

Only one body, that of an elderly woman, was recovered immediately.

One moment the passengers were laughing and singing. The next they screamed in horror as the bus plunged down the embankment into the water.

The bus and the large truck and trailer hit at a place called "The Lopper," 7 miles south of Luzern, where the main highway from Luzern to Interlaken skirts the lake.

According to one account, a motorbike moving in the traffic formed part of the pattern of confusion that led up to the crash — and the tragic plunge.

Skin divers made the first attempt to reach the bus. They came up exhausted and reported the coach might be down as far as 180 feet.

Police rushed diving equipment and lifting gear to the lake — one of the deepest in Europe — among towering Alpine peaks.

At dawn new attempts will be made to find the bus and bring it to the surface.

The party had spent two days in Lausanne, with a side trip to Geneva. They left Lausanne this morning for the beautiful 115-mile trip through Interlaken to Luzern.

Double Honors To Omaha Lass

Blair (AP) — Donna Rae Larsen who will be a senior next year at North High School in Omaha, scooped up a pair of honors at the district dairy show at Blair.

She won the showmanship award, then shortly afterward was named queen of the show. Second place in showmanship went to Kenneth Mass of Papillion.

Harriman Accuses Red Of Attempt To Rewrite History

Geneva (UPI) — United States roving ambassador Averell Harriman Wednesday accused the communists of distorting facts and trying to "rewrite history" in their drive to force the Laos conference to outlaw France's military presence in Laos.

Harriman, after listening to a communist attack on the French in Laos, rose to withdraw an earlier statement about the "businesslike" course of the negotiations.

"I am shocked by some statements here today," he said. "They are irrelevant, a distortion of fact, and an attempt to rewrite history."

With the conference unable to agree on how to handle the question of the French base and military instructors in Laos, two relevant articles in the neutrality declaration were turned over to the British and Soviet co-chairmen who hoped to reach a compromise before Thursday's meeting.

Forfeit Claimed

Red China and the Communist Pathet Lao declared that France had forfeited its military rights in Laos under the 1954 Geneva accords to the United States by introducing American military personnel.

Communist Chinese Deputy Foreign Minister Chang Han-Fu said the status of the French military establishment in Laos was changed since France had joined SEATO after the 1954 accords ending the Indochinese war.

Chang and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin also rejected a British compromise proposal which would have placed brackets around the French question in the neutrality declaration—signifying no agreement pending a new Laotian government which could negotiate directly with France.

Chicago Hoodlum Is Found Slain In Front Of His TV Set

Chicago (UPI) — A hoodlum associate of "babbling burglar" Richard Morrison was found shot to death in front of his television set.

It was Chicago's fifth gang-style assassination in two months.

Detectives sought to link the shotgun slaying of Carl Wiltse, 27-year-old convicted auto thief and oft-arrested burglar, with the gangland killing of burglar Michael Joyce, 30, last Saturday.

Detective Grant Matthews said Wiltse and Joyce were acquainted and that both knew Richard Morrison, the talkative burglar who implicated a dozen policemen in a string of lucrative burglaries last year.

Morrison's story touched off a scandal that rocked the 10,000-man Chicago police department

General Will Give Surrender Receipt To Royal Museum

Warwick, England (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery promised Wednesday he will bequeath to his old regiment the surrender document given him by German armies at the end of World War II.

Opening a new museum for the Royal Warwickshire Regiment, Montgomery said the museum will get the document in his will.

After the war, Laborite legislators tried in vain to make Montgomery put it in national archives. He refused and was supported by Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, who said: "Anybody who took the surrender of two million of the enemy in wartime is entitled to keep the receipt."

Kasai War Drums Are Sounding

Massacre Of 600 May Be Avenged

Leopoldville, The Congo (AP) — Fierce Luntu tribesmen of Kasai beat war drums Wednesday night and fears rose they will take bloody reprisals against Congolese soldiers who massacred 600 of their men, women and children.

"This could flare up into a full-scale war," said one U.N. official.

U.N. sources reported the scope of the Congolese army massacre, the worst since the violent days immediately following independence. Previous accounts had put the number massacred at 200.

Villages Burned

Luntu survivors told of torture, beheadings and of villages burned to the ground in the mass slaughter carried out over several days. Dense clouds of smoke hung over the villages for days.

One U.N. official who flew over the area in a helicopter said he counted hundreds of bodies in the charred ruins of half a dozen tribal settlements near Mutombo and Dubie villages.

The attack came, the U.N. sources said, after Luntu tribesmen smeared with war paint ambushed a 50-man Congolese patrol north of Lake Mukamba. Twenty-five members of the Congolese unit, loyal at least in name to the Leopoldville central government, were killed.

Report To U.N.

This account emerged from reports of witnesses to U.N. sources.

Two columns of 300 heavily armed Congolese soldiers each marched out from Luluabourg and nearby Lusambo seeking to retaliate for the Luntu ambush.

Men, women and children trapped in the village of Kapambwe were forced into huts which the Congolese drenched with gasoline and set afire. The action there claimed at least 300 lives, including those of natives who ran seeking to escape the flames and were shot.

Other troops plunged on and repeated the slaughter at other villages.

Garroway Hopes To Join Murrow

New York (AP)— Dave Garroway, who resigned recently from NBC's "Today" television show, has been talking with Edward R. Murrow and hopes to be able to work for the U.S. information Agency.

Garroway said Wednesday he expects to be out of American TV "not too long," but that he also wants to assist Murrow "because that's a job that needs to be done."

He said he and Murrow, who now heads the USIA, discussed ways to get USIA presentations shown on American networks and make some American commercial shows available to USIA.

As for his future, Garroway said he has had 40 some offers from American TV.

Buffalo Girl, 15, Is Indicted For Boy's Murder

Buffalo, N.Y. (UPI)—Cheryl Lee Jolls, 15, was indicted Wednesday on charges of kidnaping two young boys and the murder of one.

An Erie County grand jury handed up the indictment to Supreme Court Justice Alfred M. Kramer.

Cheryl was indicted for the kidnaping June 22 of Richard Edgington, 5, and that of 3-year-old Andrew Ashley.

The murder indictment concerned little Andy whose body was found in Delaware Park Lake June 25.

Cheryl has been confined to Meyer Memorial Hospital for psychiatric treatment. Doctors said she had a history of mental disturbances.

Iraqi Youths Not Allowed Freedom With Family Auto

Omaha (AP)—Baghdad dads know how to cope with young drivers — cocky Iraqi youngsters just don't get to drive, Capt. Muhee H. Jasim, assistant director of Baghdad police, said.

He explained that in Iraq "the family dominates the juvenile. They are not allowed the freedom with the family car that they are allowed here."

Capt. Jasim was in Omaha studying American police methods under the sponsorship of the International Cooperation Administration.

AT&T Claims Its Operations Are Within Antitrust Laws

New York (AP)—The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said Wednesday it was unaware the government is thinking about ordering AT&T to dispose of its overseas operations.

These operations consist entirely of ocean cables that carry international telephone calls.

In Washington a Justice Department official told the Senate Small Business Committee that it has under consideration an order to force AT&T to sell its overseas operations.

"We have not been informed of any such investigation and feel we are in complete compliance with the antitrust laws," the telephone company said in a statement.

In 1960 the Bell System handled 3.7 million overseas messages and after paying cooperating agencies in foreign countries, received $45 million for the calls. That was equal to about ½ of 1% of total 1960 operating revenue of $7.9 billion.

AT&T has been in the overseas communications business since 1927 when the first radio telephone circuit was opened between the United States and Britain. The company said that at that time the cost of a call between the two countries was $75. Now the standard rate is $12.

"The quality of overseas telephone service provided today is vastly superior to that provided earlier and we have worked constantly to bring it to its present state," the company said.

"The Bell System has led in building our overseas voice communications facilities in cooperation with the communications agencies and companies in other countries."

AT&T owns no overseas telephone companies. Some of its overseas cables are owned jointly with foreign companies as are the terminal stations.

At present overseas cables also connect the United States with Honolulu, France, Bermuda, Nassau, Jamaica, Cuba, Venezuela, Puerto Rico and several smaller Caribbean Islands.

A third transatlantic cable connecting this country with Great Britain is planned for 1963. In 1964 a cable is to be built between Hawaii and Japan as well as a second Hawaii-U.S. link.

With Cable & Wireless Ltd. of Great Britain, AT&T is now building a system between the United States and Bermuda from Puerto Rico to Antigua.

Mr. Stevenson Very Definitely Wasn't There

Washington (UPI) — The White House said Wednesday that a person calling the Animal Hospital the other night wound up talking to President Kennedy on the chief executive's emergency bedside phone.

"That story is true," Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said when asked about a published report of the incident.

The episode took place last week while Kennedy was working late in his bedroom. When the phone rang, Kennedy grabbed it—probably thinking a crisis had arisen.

"Hello," he snapped.

"Is this the Animal Hospital?" inquired the caller.

"No," replied the President, "this is the White House."

"Is this South 5-6855?" the person asked.

Again: "No, this is the White House."

Still persistent, the caller inquired: "Is Mr. Stevenson there?"

"No," Kennedy shot back, "this is the President."

The caller hung up.

The caller apparently just mis-dialed. The number he gave is indeed that of an Animal Hospital in nearby Arlington, Va.

Omaha To Have Airport Inn

Omaha (AP)—The Airport Authority approved the plan of an Omaha corporation to build a 60-room airport inn next to the new passenger terminal at Eppley Airfield.

Arthur C. Storz Sr., authority chairman, said the hotel will be erected by Midland, Inc., which is headed by Jake Reifschneider and Lloyd Prince, both veterans of the Eppley Hotel chain. The company now is building a motel west of 78th and Dodge Streets.

Storz said the airport inn will become airport property immediately but the sponsors have a 30-year lease on the buildings and land.
